THE BLOCKADE.Washington Government Is Now Resting Easier.Wilson's Friends, the Rebels,
May Get Their Arms.Bryan May Go Out and Play
With the Yodlers.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, June 8.—Gen. Huerta's order today suspending the blockade of Tampico against the delivery of ammunition to the Constitutionalists dispelled apprehension over a new crisis between the United States and the Huerta government, which had threatened mediation of Mexican affairs.

Although Washington officials expressed satisfaction over Huerta's action, it was persistently suggested outside of official circles that the blockade had been suspended only conditionally as a result of conferences between the Southern American mediators and the Mexican Federalists and delegates at Niagara Falls, and that the Antilla's cargo of arms might not be delivered at Tampico at this time. It was said the Antilla might be diverted in her course through an agreement with officials of the Ward line, her owners, an American corporation.

ARMY HAPPY.
President Wilson, Secretary Bryan and Secretary Daniels gave evidence of relief over the late developments which temporarily at least, have averted another clash at arms. From no official source here could confirmation be secured of reports that Huerta had an understanding with the mediators of the United States which would assure that the Antilla's cargo would not be delivered. Representatives of the Constitutionalists in Washington were inclined to the belief that the ammunition would be landed at Tampico, but divulged no direct information upon which to base such an opinion. The Antilla is due to arrive at Tampico Wednesday morning.

Secretary Bryan was first informed of Huerta's suspension of the blockade order by Mr. Riano, the Spanish Minister, early in the day. The Secretary declined to discuss reports from Niagara Falls that Gen. Huerta merely had suspended the blockade order at the request of the Southern American mediators, pending settlement of questions relating to the cessation of hostilities during the progress of the peace conference.

AN IMPORTANT QUESTION.
One important question said to have been raised at Niagara Falls was whether the United States construed the mediation agreement to oblige it to prevent arms entering into Tampico, which the Huerta government had declared closed. If the United States did not so construe the cessation of hostilities, which it was assumed would be binding, the mediators are said to have desired to know whether this government would consider it a breach of faith should Huerta's gunboats attempt to stop the Antilla's cargo of ammunition for Carranza's forces.

Such questions, it is declared, were put up to Secretary Bryan from Niagara Falls, and Huerta was asked to suspend the blockade order until the subject should be cleared up. The Mexican gunboats Zaragoza and Bravo, followed from Puerto Mexico by the American cruiser Tacoma and gunboat Sacramento, reached Tampico shortly after 8 o'clock this morning. Admiral Badger reported the arrival of the Navy Department, but did not state whether the gunboat commanders had been apprised of the suspension order. The Mexican boats anchored in the Panuco River, some distance from Tampico.

Admiral Mayo, in command of the American naval forces there, conferred with their commander, Navy Department officials assumed that Admiral Mayo discussed with the Mexican officers the extent of their authority and nature of their orders, and that he might have endeavored to dissuade them from interference with commerce at Tampico.

WHAT MAY HAPPEN.
Secretary Daniels would not discuss the future course of the steamer Antilla. Department heads still maintained, however, that there had been no order to Admiral Badger since that of May 18, directing that Tampico be kept open to commerce.

If Huerta's gunboats are to return to Puerto Mexico from Tampico nothing to that effect has been learned here tonight in official sources. It was the general opinion, however, that the vessels would remain in the vicinity of Tampico pending further developments at the mediation conference, and also to await the arrival of the Antilla, if that vessel still is to proceed with her cargo.

Some department officials tonight, in discussing the situation affecting the Antilla, argued that, despite the fact that she flies the Cuban flag, her American owners still were amenable to American customs and shipping laws, and that there was every reason to believe that the company would be prepared to give respectful consideration to hints from the State Department that it would prefer it not to land ammunition from the shores of the United States at Tampico.

At the State Department it was pointed out that the record thus far would show that the administration had been acting with exact neutrality as between the Mexican Federalists and the Constitutionalists, and that nothing to aid the Constitutionalists in replenishing their war material. The general belief here with respect to mediation is that the outlook is more hopeful in view of Huerta's present attitude, and there are many who believe Gen. Carranza's answer to the recent note of the Southern American mediators would pave the way for reception of his delegates at the peace conference. Carranza's representatives here expected to hear from their chief at Saltillo tomorrow.

THE WEST COAST.
Conditions on the West Coast of Mexico, already bad for the Huerta government, are daily becoming worse, according to Admiral Howard's report to the Navy Department. Not only is there heavy fighting at San Juan and San Rosal, but the forces of the Huerta government are being driven out of the interior, and internal dissensions are imminent. Admiral Howard has sent the Annapolis to San Rosal, presumably to complete a chain of wireless communication in view of the uncertainty of the cable.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Second Lieutenant F. H. Houston of the Twenty-eighth Infantry, at Vera Cruz, shot a drunken Mexican last night who was interfering with the Mexican police.

When Lieutenant Houston attempted to arrest him, the native cut him with a knife, whereupon the young American officer killed him.

Reporting the incident to the War Department today, Gen. Funston said: "Lieut. Houston's act is considered meritorious and killing was entirely justifiable, and no further action is considered necessary."

About the Antilla.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
NIAGARA FALLS (Ont.) June 8.—The mediators announced tonight they will make public tomorrow all correspondence that has passed between them and Gen. Carranza or his agents. No explanation was made of the decision to give out the several notes beyond the brief statement that the mediators believe the time has come to give to the public the information they contain.

It is understood that the mediators feel that they have allowed a long enough time to Gen. Carranza to make reply to the note which they dispatched last Tuesday to Rafael Zurbarán, Constitutional representative in Washington. They are said to be of the opinion that a week has been sufficient time for an answer.

With the making public of the correspondence which has passed between the mediators and Gen. Carranza, including part of that from Washington before the opening of the conference, it is declared that the Southern American diplomats personally are inclined to look on their efforts to have the Constitutionalists send delegates to the peace conference. Carranza in his answer should agree to an armistice.

PACIFICATION PLANS.
The United States government, through Justice Lamar and Frederick W. Lehmann, today presented to the three Southern American mediators a complete plan for the pacification of Mexico.

It is the same in principle as that presented by the mediators and Gen. Carranza at the earliest date practicable, a complete plan for the pacification of Mexico City, which would conduct general elections for a permanent government.

The plan written by the American delegates, after consultation with the Washington government, includes several counter proposals of which the Huerta delegates will be advised tomorrow. A full conference of all delegates and mediators is planned for tomorrow or Wednesday. This is for the formal consideration and final drafting of the protocol.

ANTILLA'S CARGO.
Although the question of whether the steamer Antilla would be permitted to land her ammunition at the Constitutional port of Tampico was not finally disposed of today, the Mexican delegates let it be known that while they hoped the cargo would be returned to New York, they were not disposed to interrupt mediation even if the ammunition finally got ashore.

Gen. Huerta's order rescinding the blockade infused a spirit of optimism everywhere, and the situation yesterday was threatening.

Tonight final word was awaited from the American government as to whether the Antilla would be permitted to land her arms. The Spanish Ambassador at Washington is expected to receive from Secretary Bryan the reply to the note addressed originally by the Huerta government to the mediators and referred to Washington.

The Antilla would be permitted to land her arms, the Spanish Ambassador at Washington is expected to receive from Secretary Bryan the reply to the note addressed originally by the Huerta government to the mediators and referred to Washington.

Admiral Badger reported that he directed Rear-Admiral Mayo to offer the command of the little Huerta squadron facilities for communicating with the capital. The offer was promptly accepted.

The departure of the gunboats further relieved tension here and was accepted as meaning that the suspension of the blockade would be permanent. It was assumed that, in view of the determination of the United States to prevent any interference with the steamer Antilla due to her participation in the Constitutional fight, the blockade would be lifted.

It was definitely, however, that Gen. Villa departed early today from Chihuahua City to begin the campaign to the south.

At Santa Rosalia, where he will remain several days, it was said, if troop movements had begun it was not announced here.

ILLUSTRATION.
The Mexican delegates asked if the American government would object to action being taken by the Mexican gunboats to prevent the landing of the ammunition. The delegates wanted to know if the right of search in this case would be regarded as a violation of the armistice between the United States and Mexico.

THEY END IS NEAR.
The Mexican delegates are optimistic and see the end of the parley here. They are assuming that the American government will deal with the Constitutionalists and the latter do not come into the negotiations immediately.

It is known authoritatively that the original terms set by the mediators for Constitutional participation—the declaration of an armistice and the suspension of hostilities—were not accepted by the Constitutionalists. The latter do not accept the offer of an armistice, although they do accept the offer of a truce. It is understood that a diplomatic way of approaching the internal situation is being suggested by the mediators. The Constitutionalists, however, are insisting on an armistice. The Constitutionalists, according to the mediators, are desirous of discussing a solution of the Mexican problem by diplomacy, but are unwilling to disrupt their military campaign until they have good reason to believe the plan under discussion meets their approval.

Four months ago the peace plan will meet the approval of the Constitutionalists before a protocol is signed. The mediators believe that the Constitutionalists eventually will approve the plans being worked out. While details of the peace plan are not yet known, it is said to be a large share in the new provisional government will be given to the Constitutionalists.

The plan calls for the establishment of a provisional government at the Lakes region, 2 deg. north of 23 deg. above Los Angeles. The Eastern States also are very hot. The Lakes region is 2 deg. north of 23 deg. above Los Angeles. The Eastern States also are very hot.

JURY IN OREGON.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
CANYON CITY (Or.) June 8.—The trial of Charles E. Potts, charged with the murder of his wife, started in the Circuit Court today. The regular jury panel was exhausted and a special venire of twenty jurors from four widely separated portions of the county was issued.

Many witnesses arrived from Chicago and Los Angeles and a number of the medical profession has been subpoenaed as expert witnesses. Potts and his wife arrived here last July from their home in Los Angeles to visit Mrs. Potts's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McGarvin, near Mt. Vernon. After being here for a few weeks, Potts gave the alarm early one morning that his wife was having some kind of a fit. Mrs. McGarvin called and found her daughter just as she expired. It was said that death was due to heart disease, but a discolored area of the neck was noted. The funeral Potts left for Los Angeles. Six months later the body was exhumed and found to be that of a woman, but the body was not identified. The arrest of Potts was then ordered. He has been confined in the County Jail four months.

Potts is a member of the Los Angeles Board of Trade and reputed to be prominent in business circles.

LONDON FIRM SUSPENDED.

The Canadian Agency, Which Also Had Offices in New York, Was Largely Controlled by Grenfell.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

LONDON, June 8.—Formal announcement of the suspension of the Canadian Agency, Ltd., was made today.

The concern, which also had offices in New York, was largely controlled by Arthur Grenfell, formerly of the firm of Chaplin, Milne, Grenfell & Co., which suspended Saturday with liabilities estimated at about $1,250,000.

The business of the Canadian Agency was the flotation and financing of Canadian and other companies. It is alleged to have been engaged recently in a campaign for the purchase of a controlling interest in the Grand Trunk Railway.

FOURTEEN BIDS RECEIVED.

All Offers on the Yolo Basin Causeway May Be Rejected by State Highway Commission.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

SACRAMENTO, June 8.—Fourteen bids were received by the State Highway Commission today for the construction of the causeway or bridge over the Yolo Basin by-pass, between Sacramento and Davis.

All of them will be rejected tomorrow if the commission adheres to the opinion of the Attorney-General that all bids in excess of the State Engineer's estimate must be rejected and new bids called.

This will necessitate a further delay of between thirty and forty days upon one of the most urgent pieces of State Highway contemplated on either the valley or coast routes.

The engineer's estimate is $215,634 for labor, lumber, cement and like material. The State is to furnish steel, asphalt and the like, which will aggregate $148,166, a sum not to be included in the bids, the first figure regulating the highest bid that will be considered.

The total cost of the construction of the by-pass bridge, therefore, will be not more than $363,800, under the present estimate.

Huerta Decides Not to Blockade Tampico in Deference to Mediation Proceedings at Niagara Falls.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

MEXICO CITY, June 8.—The Mexican government today decided to suspend the effects of the blockade of Tampico, which had been ordered.

This step was taken upon the government learning that the mediators at Niagara Falls were taking some action in regard to the movements of the steamer Antilla reported to have sailed from an American port with arms for the Constitutionalists and also to prevent a setback in the peace negotiations.

It was officially stated that the Mexican government in ordering the blockade of Tampico has no intention of interfering with commercial traffic. Its intention was only to prevent the Constitutionalists from receiving arms and ammunition.

Robert Esteva Ruiz, the Mexican Foreign Minister, made the following statement:

"I have received information today from our delegates at the mediation conference that the peace negotiations are well advanced and no difficulty has been encountered up to the present time. Therefore the proposed blockade of Tampico has not interfered with the negotiations."

"The Mexican government upon learning that the Mexican delegates and the other mediators were taking some action in regard to the expedition against the Antilla, which was reported to have sailed from an American port with arms for the Constitutionalists has decided to suspend the effects of the Tampico blockade in order not to embarrass the peace negotiations."

"The war office probably tomorrow will publish a decree to this effect in the Diario Oficial."

Secretary Wilson's Conciliation Commissioners Meet Representatives of the Operators at Capital.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Commissioners of conciliation appointed by Secretary Wilson of the Department of Labor to undertake a settlement of the strike in the Kanawha coal fields of West Virginia had their first meeting tonight with representatives of the Kanawha Coal Operators' Association. Tomorrow the commissioners will meet officials of the United Mine Workers of America, and later there will be a joint conference where it is hoped a common basis of agreement will be found.

From 10,000 to 12,000 miners have been on strike in the Kanawha field for several weeks as a result of disagreement over a new wage scale.

Thousands of Dollars' Worth of Fresh, New, Clean Merchandise

This morning new boxes of undermuslins will be opened up to fill in the lines depleted by yesterday's heavy sales. Many new styles shown for the first time, such as camisole top combinations, knickerbocker combinations, corset covers with lace or net sleeves, etc., will be found at ridiculously low prices. The markets of the country were gleaned for specials and vast sums of money were expended to make this the biggest of all our June Sales of Undermuslins. Price was not the only thing to be considered—the cut and finish of every garment, no matter how inexpensive, had to be perfect. Brides-to-be who are planning a wedding now will find this sale a wonderful satisfaction. Above we illustrate a few of the garments, and we would call your particular attention to the savings on night gowns that we've listed below, but it would be impossible to give an adequate description of every item in the sale.

Don't Be Misled If You Have Tuberculosis

No specific has been discovered for tuberculosis, but Eckman's Alternative has been successful in many cases. Read of this case:

333 Seventh Ave., New York.
"Gentlemen:—Five years ago last August I was taken to St. Francis Hospital to be treated for bronchitis and congested lungs. After several weeks' treatment I was advised by the doctor to go to a convalescent sanitarium, but could not be admitted because the doctor at the hospital, after a thorough examination, declared my case tubercular, and gave me a certificate to that effect. I showed the certificate to Father Stark, and he advised me to take Eckman's Alternative myself free from night sweats and fever. I have not taken the Alternative now for two years, and can truthfully say I am well. I feel better and am stronger than before my sickness."

FOUR KILLED IN RIOTS.

Italian Anarchists, Who Try to Prevent the Celebration of a National Fete, Are Fired Upon.

(BY ATLANTIC CITY AND A. P.)
ANCONA (Italy) June 8.—Four persons have been killed as a result of the rioting here which broke out yesterday in an attempt by anarchists to prevent the celebration of a national fete. During Sunday rioting the carabinieri fired several volleys and the mob replied with stones and bullets.

A body of workmen on their way to lower the flag on the City Hall to half-mast today came upon a lieutenant of the infantry and soundly beat him, breaking his sword and almost stripping him of his uniform. The government commissary has issued a manifesto expressing regret at the killing and stating that a rigid inquiry will be held.

A mob visited two gunsmiths' stores and although these were protected by soldiers, they succeeded in taking a number of revolvers, but no ammunition.

A small body of police, which arrived to reinforce the regular men, were caught by strikers as they were leaving the railroad station and were badly mauled. They had to use their fire arms in self-defense.

GENERAL STRIKE CALLED.

(BY ATLANTIC CITY AND A. P.)
ROME, June 8.—The Central Labor Exchange today declared a general strike of workmen as a protest against what is regarded by the labor leaders as the summary action of the government at Ancona and elsewhere in connection with yesterday's workmen's demonstrations. It is regarded as possible that the strike will not last more than twenty-four hours.

LOS ANGELES WINS A FIGHT.

Supreme Court Rules Against Switching Charge.

Decision Vital to Interests of California Shippers.

Railroads' Demands for Service Unjustified.

(BY DIRECT WIRE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 8.—One of the most important questions of Los Angeles and California shippers generally, the $2.50 switching charge, was settled today by the Supreme Court against the railroads, the late Commerce Court once more experiencing a reversal. The opinion was read by Mr. Justice Hughes, who said he did not think the Interstate Commerce Commission's order was open, as charged, to the objection that it rested upon a construction of the statute which would forbid any carrier from separating its terminal and haulage charges on the same shipment and that this is a fundamental misconception of the law.

Reference was made in the opinion, written by Franklin K. Lane, that English roads make separate terminal charges, but, said Justice Hughes, no such segregation had been attempted by the carriers here and its propriety was not necessarily involved in the decision. The Interstate Commerce Commission, he said, held that an additional charge was not justified if additional service was not in fact rendered.

He did not understand that the commission ruled "that the receipt and delivery of goods at plants located upon spurs or side tracks could not in any circumstances be regarded as a distinct service for which separate compensation might be demanded." On the other hand, it cannot be maintained, said the court, that the switching service was one that should be paid additional compensation for. The spur tracks "may, in fact, constitute an essential part of the carriers' terminal system." While 19,000 cities have such tracks and service, "the carriers before the commission could name only three exceptions, to-wit, the cities of Los Angeles, San Francisco and San Diego."

However, the question whether there is an additional service on which to base extra charge is held to be a question of fact, and taking the findings of the commission, the Superior Court finds no grounds for holding the order to be invalid.

Justice Hughes said he did not agree with allegation that the commission's finding was opposed to the admitted physical facts, that transportation was given to and from industrial plants located one-fifth mile to seven miles from the main track of the carrier. But it is noted that the charge was averaged and was the same in every case. The court is satisfied with the commission's declaration that the service involved no greater expense than would team track delivery, and it concludes as follows:

"The argument for the petitioners necessarily invites the court to substitute its judgment for that of the commission upon matters of fact within the commission's province. This is not the function of the court. We cannot regard the act to regulate commerce as justifying an increased or extra charge for a substantially similar service and upon the case made it cannot be said that the commission has overstepped its authority in forbidding the charge in question as one which was unjustly discriminatory. In our opinion the Commerce Court erred in denying the government's motion to dismiss and in granting the petitioners' motion for injunction. The order of the Commerce Court is therefore reversed and the cause is remanded to the District Court of the United States for the southern district of California, southern division, with instructions to dismiss the bill."

MAY REFUND A MILLION.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—William B. Wheeler, manager of the tariff bureau of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, said today that the refund made possible to San Francisco merchants by the decision of the United States Supreme Court in the Los Angeles spur track case may total $1,500,000 if the charges to be refunded go back to the filing of the suit. It is believed, however, that they will date only from the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission. In this event the refund of switching charges will approximate $1,000,000.

The annual saving to San Francisco merchants in recent years has been about $250,000 annually, but increased traffic has raised that figure for the current year. The transcontinental railroads have been charging $2.50 minimum a car for industrial switching.

COUPONS TO MAKE SAN DIEGO MECCA.

ALL ROUND-TRIP TICKETS NEXT YEAR ARE TO INCLUDE SOUTHERN CITY.

"Every round-trip ticket sold to California in 1915 will have a coupon for a side trip from here to San Diego," said H. J. Penfold, secretary of the Panama-California Exposition, yesterday. Penfold was in the city to confer with Chamber of Commerce officials on arrangements for the body's pre-exposition excursion to San Diego, Saturday.

"It is a great victory for our exposition forces," Penfold continued. "The railroads are willing to make a blanket rate to cover San Diego and San Francisco. But we wanted a coupon to show that tickets were good either way via San Diego."

"Some months ago I figured that 60 per cent. of the people that come to California in 1915 would visit San Diego. Now, with the coupon as a psychological appeal, I am confident that 80 per cent. of them will visit us. I figure this way because people like to ride their tickets out."

Penfold stated that the exposition forces are making arrangements to royally entertain the Chamber of Commerce excursionists. A brass band and automobiles will meet the party on arrival. At noon there will be a luncheon with speeches, in the California building. Up to last night 125 tickets had been reserved for the excursion. Officials of the chamber have engaged a special train which will accommodate 250 persons.

BRITH ABRAHAM.

Session of Order at Atlantic City Passes Resolution Increasing the Annual Assessment.

(BY A. P. STURE WIRE.)

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) June 8.—A resolution setting aside the present reserve fund of $500,000 as a permanent asset of the order and increasing the annual assessment from 38 to 50 cents for a period of ten years, for the purpose of creating a new endowment fund, was adopted at today's session of the Independent Order of Brith Abraham.

Other resolutions adopted provide for an assessment of two-thirds of 1 cent per member, to be paid to members who are totally disabled through injury, and another assessment of one-third of 1 cent for those only partially disabled. The charity tax was fixed at 10 cents a member, and the per capita tax of 25 cents for national organization expenses was continued. Three thousand dollars a year was voted to Leon Sanders, Grand Master, for expenses.

The Grand Master was empowered to speak for the entire organization whenever occasion arises for him to appeal to Congress or President Wilson in behalf of "down-trodden brethren abroad." This action was taken after several delegates had denounced the Burnett-Dillingham immigration bill, now pending in Congress, and which Grand Master Sanders assailed yesterday in his annual address.

Election of officers will be held tomorrow. Sanders is a candidate to succeed himself, and has no opposition.

Supreme Court Upholds Interstate Commerce Commission's Power.

Says Congress Delegates Authority to Interstate Commerce Commission.

Decision Puts Railroad Final Federal Control.

(BY A. P. STURE WIRE.)

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The Supreme Court today placed its stamp upon the power of the Interstate Commerce Commission to regulate interstate commerce. The court said it upheld the power of the Interstate Commerce Commission to regulate interstate commerce, in which the Interstate Commerce Commission had the right to make a decision for relief.

The decision was announced by Justice Hughes, Justice Brandeis dissenting. The court said it upheld the power of the Interstate Commerce Commission to regulate interstate commerce, in which the Interstate Commerce Commission had the right to make a decision for relief.

The court first decided that Congress had power to regulate interstate commerce over and over again, and that the Interstate Commerce Commission had the right to regulate interstate commerce, in which the Interstate Commerce Commission had the right to make a decision for relief.

"It is of the essence of the Interstate Commerce Commission's power to regulate interstate commerce, in which the Interstate Commerce Commission had the right to make a decision for relief."

"The fact that carries on its business interstate commerce, in which the Interstate Commerce Commission had the right to make a decision for relief."

Justice Hughes, who wrote the majority opinion, said the court's decision in the case of a year ago, which held that the Interstate Commerce Commission had the right to regulate interstate commerce, in which the Interstate Commerce Commission had the right to make a decision for relief."

"We are not unmindful of the gravity of the question presented when State and Federal courts are in conflict," the opinion continued. "It was recognized at the time that the nation could not properly state and foreign trade be controlled by many means, in which the Interstate Commerce Commission had the right to make a decision for relief."

Decision Puts Railroad
Final Federal Control.

(BY A. P. BROWN WRITER.)

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The step toward placing railroad under master instead of master taken today by the Supreme Court holding the power of the Interstate Commerce Commission to regulate State rates that discriminate against interstate commerce.
The court said in substance that Minnesota and other railroad cases, in which the railroad might have been decided in favor of the roads, had the roads gone to court for relief instead of to Congress.

The decision was announced by Justice Hughes, Justice Brandeis dissenting. The case was brought by Shreveport merchants, that the Interstate Commerce Commission had shut them out of business by compelling roads to reduce Texas rates below what the Interstate Commerce Commission allowed.
Roads running from Shreveport to Texas cities to charge.

POWER OF CONGRESS.

The court first decided that Congress had power to control interstate commerce over an interstate road to the extent necessary to prevent injurious discrimination against interstate traffic and that Congress had conferred power upon the Interstate Commerce Commission.

"It is of the essence of the regulate interstate commerce where it exists, it dominates it," Hughes said.

"The fact that carriers are engaged in interstate commerce of interstate commerce, and regulate from the commission paramount authority of Congress over the latter or preclude the local power from being exercised to prevent the interstate operation of such carriers from being means of injury to that interstate commerce confined to Federal control.
"Wherever the interstate commerce transactions of carriers are related, that the government in one involves the control of the other, it is Congress and not the state that is entitled to prevail and dominant rule, for the Congress would be destroyed of its constitutional power and the State and not the federal government would be supreme within its field."

In removing discrimination against interstate commerce held Congress was not to reduce the interstate rates but it may seem to be a standard to the carrier and the public.

"Otherwise," said the opinion,
the interstate commerce
would be prevented only by the judgment as to interstate commerce."

Justice Hughes, who wrote the decision in the case of a year ago, pointed out the present case did not involve the interstate commerce by the commission of discriminations. Interstate commerce to be fixed by the commission to the authority of the commission.

GRAVITY OF QUESTION.
"We are not unmindful of the gravity of the question that is presented when State and Federal jurisdiction conflict," the opinion concluded.
"The interstate commerce
was recognized at the time the nation could not protect its interstate commerce from discrimination by many masters, and the interests of the interstate commerce are involved in the question of Congress and the state's lawful establishment of control."

WRITTEN BY LANE.
Members of the Interstate Commerce Commission regarded the decision as one of the most important in the history of the body which the body ever had made. The decision was announced before the commission to become a member of the President's Cabinet.

Luxury BREAD

THE Loaf—

with the Sweet Wheaty Flavor.

THE Cause—

We make and use "our-own-pure" vegetable yeast.

THE Results—

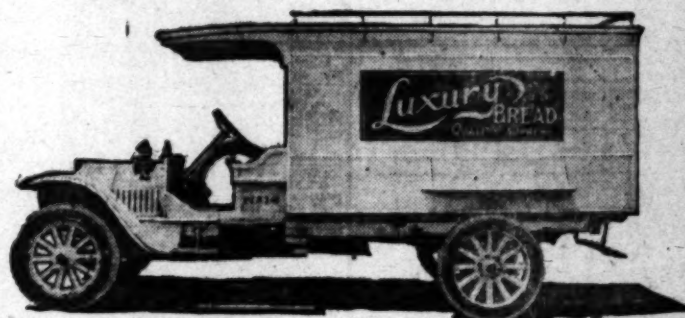

Free from any sour, acidious, yeasty odor, so common in ordinary bread. Luxury has a smooth velvety texture, a close even grain, is a compact firm loaf, with a sweet wheaty flavor; in fact, Luxury is a REAL-loaf-of-bread. Keeps fresh and moist for days.

Be Critical—

The public should be more critical. Be particular—when ordering—don't just say to your grocer—"send me a loaf of bread"—but specify by name the brand and kind you want. Luxury is "Quality Supreme"—same price as ordinary bread—10c the loaf.

Then why not Luxury?

COMES TO MEET CITY'S VOTERS.

Helen Williams of Northern Fame in Local Field.

Five or Six Eligibles for Lieutenant-Governor.

Great Interest in Politics Shown by Women.

Helen K. Williams, publisher of the Woman Citizen, San Francisco, who has been urged by both men and women to become a candidate for the nomination of Lieutenant-Governor on the Republican ticket, is in Los Angeles, canvassing the prospects of her candidacy. Mrs. Williams has long been identified with political work, the greater part of which has been directed toward securing enfranchisement for women.

A friend, describing her, has said: "A smartly-dressed young woman of 30, who looks somewhat younger, of fine athletic figure, with Irish wit brought from her native Wexford, a pair of deep blue eyes that glow and flash and sparkle with her moods, a rich, clear, strong voice, and a personality of strength, and yet winsome—that is Helen K. Williams." The description, though a little poetic, is nevertheless accurate.

She had a successful daily newspaper career before she undertook the publication of the Woman Citizen.

Mrs. Williams said last evening: "I have always been a Republican and am registered as a Republican. It is true that I was employed as a publicity agent and organizer by Theodore Bell, but that was a salaried position for a campaign and did not affect my political views. What I am anxious to bring about now is the defeat of Hiram Johnson and his party in this State. I am very much in earnest."

Rivals for the honor of the nomination for Lieutenant-Governor have been brought forward. Mrs. Clara Shortridge Foltz of this city was suggested yesterday by a group of clubwomen. Others named are Mrs. May Cornwall Julliard of Hayward, Mrs. A. F. Jones of Oroville, Mrs. Lowell White and Mrs. Lowenberg of San Francisco.

The Woman Citizen is different from most women's publications. It has no crocheted patterns featured on the front cover, nor advice to the love-lorn; it has not a single stick on the fashions of the day, and offers no advice as to how to clear the church debt and keep the baby from having the croup.

When Mrs. Williams started her magazine, she "knew" that there are thousands of women who have no babies, consequently they are not interested in croup preventives; that there are thousands of women who would rather have a clear, concise statement of the bills up for discussion in Congress than to be told how to crochet a coverlet.

LETTERS POUR IN. The letters that are coming to Mrs. Williams unsolicited show somewhat the esteem in which she is held by those who know her and deal with her, and what they think of her possible candidacy.

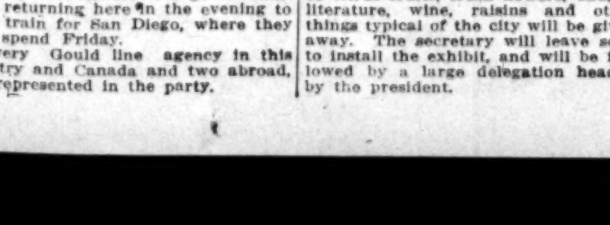

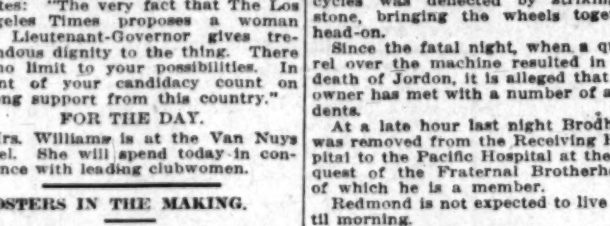

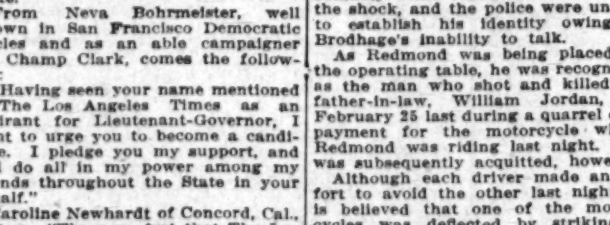

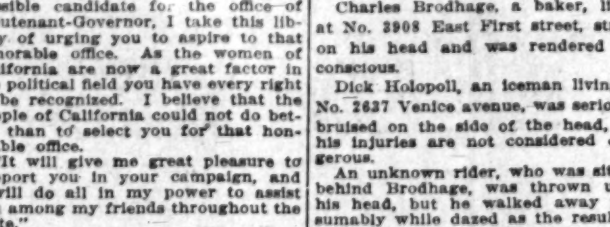

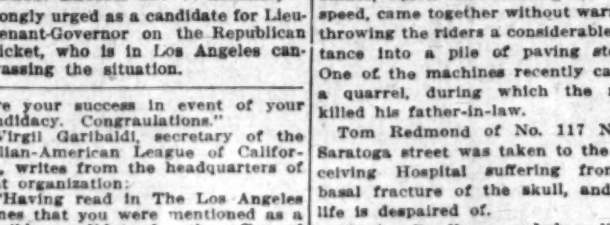

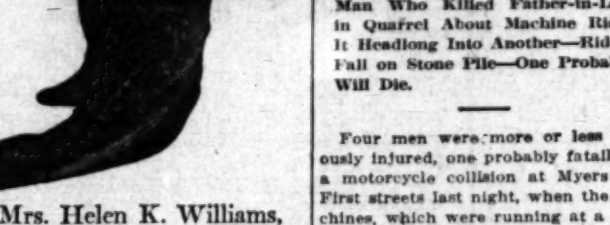

Sam P. Davis, Republican, active campaigner and warm supporter of a gubernatorial candidate, now in the field, writes under date of May 21: "Hurrah for you, Helen Williams! It is with deepest pleasure that I learn that you may become a candidate for Lieutenant-Governor on the Republican ticket. This will, in event of your success at the primaries, make you the running mate of my friend, I will be down in a few days and talk with you further."

Mrs. L. M. Phillips, well known in university circles in Berkeley, writes on May 25th: "I hope you will be able to come over to the gathering of the clans next Sunday. We want to let you see for yourself what the enthusiasm over your probable candidacy for the Lieutenant-Governorship amounts to in little old Berkeley."

"We have felt the pulse of the college voters and know that in this spot in California you have a moment 3000 backers, not counting the townspeople who have given ample proofs in the last three municipal elections of how much they favor women for public office."

C. B. Conlin, Consumers' Supply Company, Washington, Los Angeles, voices unbounded enthusiasm and pledges his support as follows: "Here's hoping you go to it hammer and tongs and land the nomination, then the office. I can speak for a number of my friends and I assure you have us and all we can do. If you are really going after the Lieutenant-Governorship and me campaign literature and I will see that it lands where it will do the most good. I own an interest in two moving picture houses and I will run my picture on the screen with the necessary information that you are to be the next Lieutenant-Governor. Throw your million dollars into the ring. You can win with a capital 'W'."

She May Grace a High Position.

YOUTH SEES SOUTH SEEKS INDORSEMENT.

Young Republicans After Statewide O.K.

Would Have All California Support Fredericks.

Crowd to Go to Convention in San Francisco.

Statewide indorsement of Capt. Fredericks for Governor will be sought by the Young Republicans of the southern counties at San Francisco on July 7, when the Young Republican League of California holds its first State convention.

Hundreds of delegates from the Southland will go to San Francisco determined to gain for Fredericks the unanimous O.K. of the official body of Young Republicans, and they will carry with them the united strength of the South, according to Spencer Thorpe, chairman of the Executive Committee of the league.

Capt. Fredericks has been indorsed by the Young Republican clubs all over Southern California. These clubs had formed organized the league. Throughout the southern counties the league was well organized weeks ago, and the movement sprang northward until it found favor in nearly every county, and before July 1 there will not be a county in the State without its Young Republican Club.

The clubs will elect delegates to the San Francisco convention, at which Senator Borah of Idaho will speak. The date for the convention has been set ahead owing to Senator Borah's inability to come until that time.

First General Step. The convention will be the first general bombardment of the campaign. It will cover the whole State, and will bring into being a powerful body of Republicans, young in age and youth in spirit, who will be determining factors in the primaries and at the election.

DEATH COMES TO HERMIT OF HOTEL.

WEALTHY, SECLUDED WOMAN OF PROMINENT FAMILY LONG AN INVALID HERE.

Death was one short step for Miss Sarah E. Atkinson, who passed away at 10 o'clock yesterday morning in her apartment at the Lankershim, where she had been confined five years as an invalid. A nurse whom she had employed recently, and who is unacquainted with her affairs, was the only person with her at the time heart failure brought the end.

Miss Atkinson was 65 years old. She was related to the wealthy Deere family of Moline, manufacturers of farming implements. She was wealthy in her own name and received numerous checks, which she was careless about cashing. Several drafts for large amounts, which had been issued for some time, were found in her room yesterday.

Few of the guests at the hotel knew of the presence of the quiet invalid. She passed through the lobby only twice a year—to and from one of the beaches, where it was her custom to spend the summer season.

After her long residence at the hotel no one connected with the staff knew the name of a relative or friend except that she was related to the Deeres. After her death, the clerk at the hotel sent telegrams to Moline in an effort to locate someone who would be interested in the disposition of the body. Pending the receipt of instructions it was sent to the St. Louis morgue.

BACK FROM EUROPE. Banker Avery Returns From Three Months' Tour in Europe, Where He Was Joined by Son.

Having spent some three months in Europe on a tour of inspection and pleasure, Dr. M. N. Avery yesterday returned to Los Angeles, and again took up his duties as president of the German-American Savings Bank. He was accompanied by his wife and daughter on the tour, and also on the homeward journey by his son, Dr. Gordon Avery, who has been taking a post-graduate course at Berlin and Vienna.

Dr. Avery visited Italy, Austria, Switzerland, Germany, England, Belgium and Holland. While abroad he made a study of financial conditions, but stated yesterday that he had not been sufficiently informed regarding the local situation since his return to make any accurate comparisons.

FATED. DEATH CLINGS TO MOTORCYCLE.

CAUSED FATAL SHOOTING; NOW INJURES FOUR.

Man Who Killed Father-in-Law in Quarrel About Machine Rides It Heading Into Another—Riders Fall on Stone Pile—One Probably Will Die.

Four men were more or less seriously injured, one probably fatally, in a motorcycle collision at Myers and First streets last night, when the machine, which was running at a high speed, came together without warning, throwing the riders a considerable distance into a pile of paving stones. One of the machines recently caused a quarrel, during which the rider killed his father-in-law.

Tom Redmond of No. 117 North Saratoga street was taken to the Receiving Hospital suffering from a basal fracture of the skull, and his life is despaired of.

Charles Brodhage, a baker, living at No. 1908 East First street, struck on his head and was rendered unconscious.

Dick Holopoll, an ice man living at No. 2637 Venice avenue, was seriously bruised on the side of the head, but his injuries are not considered dangerous.

An unknown rider, who was sitting behind Brodhage, was thrown upon his head, but he walked away presumably while dazed as the result of the shock, and the police were unable to establish his identity owing to Brodhage's inability to talk.

As Redmond was being placed on the operating table, he was recognized as the man who shot and killed his father-in-law, William Jordan, on February 25 last during a quarrel over payment for the motorcycle which Redmond was riding last night. He was subsequently acquitted, however.

Although each driver made an effort to avoid the other last night, it is believed that one of the motorcycles was deflected by striking a stone, bringing the wheels together head-on.

At a late hour last night Brodhage was removed from the Receiving Hospital to the Pacific Hospital at the request of the Fraternal Brotherhood, of which he is a member.

CARNIVAL OF STATES OPENS.

Parade and Bands Herald the Novel Undertaking.

Music and Dancing Entertain Great Crowds.

Attractions in Many Booth Decorations.

The great Carnival of States opened at Fiesta Park yesterday under a huge tent, in which there is a booth for every State in the Union. It takes on the appearance of an old-fashioned country fair, at which there ated, it represented every State and Alaska, Hawaii and Canada.

OHIO SHOUTERS.

Mr. Wallace, who spoke under the auspices of the two societies mentioned, "handed one" to Ohio.

"I like Michigan much better than Ohio," he said. "Are there any Ohio people here?" (Great applause by the Buckeye bunch.) The Michigan folks are modest, but the Ohio people stand on the house-tops and shout, "I'm from Ohio; I'm from the State that makes Presidents." (Applause.) There are 40,000 people in this State from Ohio, and none of them want to go back! Where are you folks who shouted a moment ago?

"When I think of Michigan I think of my office desk. Is Michigan a State or a lake, and do they make anything but furniture? Michigan has made a name for herself and has produced some of the greatest statesmen of our time, but it's Ohio I'm thinking about. Ohio is two and a half times as big as Michigan in population and when it comes to doing big things, Ohio is it. Her great statesmen are known everywhere—Salmon P. Chase, William Tecumseh Sherman, ex-President Garfield, McKinley and Taft." (Great applause.)

is something doing every minute, and last night the crowd reached the limit of the tent.

The carnival was inaugurated by a big automobile parade, the decorated machines being led by a brass band, with several others in the procession, and the business district of the city was packed with thousands of people to witness the enthusiastic procession. Halts were made at the City Hall and in front of the Times Building, where the band gave serenades, and then proceeded to the tent.

The formal opening of the carnival took place at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, under the auspices of the Ohio and Michigan State societies, with O. W. Blaine, president of the Michigan Society, presiding.

In the absence of the Mayor the municipality was represented by Councilman Bryant, who made a brief speech of welcome on behalf of the official departments of the municipality.

Chairman Blaine, in the introductory presentation, Lieut.-Gov. Wallace, stated that though the crowd was not so large as had been anticiparticularly the central part of the State as an agricultural district, owing to its rivers and natural moisture, but Southern California, he said, has surpassed the other sections of the State in development because the right kind of men came here.

Chairman Blaine gave a brief history of the inception and realization of the carnival, in which eighty-one State and local societies are interested, and outlined the plans for the erection of a State Federation building with the funds to be secured. He was followed by Dr. F. P. Hamblin, president of the Ohio State Society, who spoke of the home State and its place in history as fixed by the men it has produced.

The programme was interspersed with music by the Louis Meyer Orchestra, the Hawaiian Quartette and Miss Edna Eno, vocalist.

OUT IN FORCE.

Last night the State Federation showed its strength by packing the tent and enjoying the dancing and fun at the many booths. A concert was given, which included, in addition,

"THE TIMES" SCHOOL OF DOMESTIC SCIENCE.

THERE is a surprise in store for all who attend The Times School of Domestic Science this afternoon. It is to be something connected with summer dishes, but just what is the secret. Mrs. Bertha Haffner-Ginger, who is conducting the cooking class, has been so successful with her "surprises" that just the announcement of such a treat is sufficient to attract a large audience. Candy day Saturday was more than successful, the class enjoying greatly the lesson on fancy confectionery. After the lesson all were directed to pay the new Wistaria shop at Fourth and Broadway, a visit, and get a sample of the delicious chocolates which its candy-maker turns out, as well as a spray of purple silk wisteria, presented in honor of the opening of this newest Los Angeles sweet shop.

The excursion, which Mrs. Haffner-Ginger will conduct tomorrow morning to the Pacific Baking Company's plant, where the Holsen brand of bread is made, promises to be a delightful treat. A hundred housewives will avail themselves of the invitation to inspect the plant and to have lunch there as the guest of the big baking concern. Special cars have been chartered and the start will be made from The Times Building at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. Only those who have registered their names with Mrs. Haffner-Ginger will make the trip.

Mrs. Haffner-Ginger is planning several interesting excursions for her class in domestic science, and unless the weather becomes too warm, these will be enjoyed in the near future.

The private lessons which Mrs. Haffner-Ginger has decided to begin in about two weeks promise to be popular, a large number having registered. From the demand Mrs. Haffner-Ginger says she may have to hold at least one night lesson a week.

Any one wishing to take the private course in cooking should communicate with Mrs. Haffner-Ginger at once and be assigned to a class. There will be both advanced and beginning work in cooking.

The Times lessons in domestic science, which are free to all, are being conducted every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, in the auditorium on the second floor of The Times Building, at First and Broadway.

Our Wonderful Organization Back of Every Single Piano Sacrificed in This Extraordinary Sale

IT IS WELL TO REMEMBER:

- First—That our methods make lower the cost of worthy goods.
- Second—That we pay no middlemen's profits, or agents, or agency commissions.
- Third—That each and every instrument sold by Ellers Music Houses is marked at its lowest possible selling price; no more is ever asked, and no less can be accepted; one price to all, and that price the lowest.
- Fourth—That each and every instrument sold by Ellers Music Houses is positively and definitely guaranteed.
- Fifth—That we will not sell anything that we know is not right. A child may purchase at any Ellers Music House with the same safety and security and in every way as satisfactorily as can the shrewdest and most experienced shopper.
- Sixth—The heads of Ellers Music House are men trained from boyhood in their particular line of work. Every confidence can, therefore, be placed in each of the many Ellers Music Houses and in what they have to say, and in the statements made by anyone connected with any Ellers Music House. Every statement made by any authorized representative of Ellers Music House is backed by the greatest responsibility and therefore entitled to be accepted at face value and without question, for whenever anyone from any Ellers Music House does not do credit to the name, we cheerfully make it right. We agree to make every penny anyone may have paid, no matter when demanded or upon what grounds a reasonable claim is based.

And in conclusion:—One ought not to expect to hear of the good quality of Ellers Music House instruments and the all-around trustworthiness and positive reliability of Ellers Music House from people who have been victims of their own to sell.

We always advise that most careful comparison and investigation be made. It will be found that no other plausible any claims or statements made elsewhere may have seemed, that will invariably be looking differently and altogether in favor of Ellers Music House when confronted with downright facts.

HUSBAND DEAD; WIFE IS HELD

Woman Declares that Spouse Fired Fatal Shot.

Accident Story Not Accepted by the Police.

Presence of Powder Burns Crucial in Case.

Mysterious circumstances connected with the killing of Charles Schwartz, 24 years old, who was found dead at his home, No. 629 North Hollywood drive, with a bullet through the heart last night, led later to the arrest of his wife, Katie Schwartz, charged with suspected murder.

When taken to the police station the woman maintained her innocence of the crime and asserted that her husband had committed suicide during a family quarrel.

A contradiction of this statement by the police point out that no powder burns were discovered on the body of the victim, and that the fact that Mrs. Schwartz stated her husband would have killed her had he not shot himself first.

The tragedy occurred shortly after midnight, the end of a quarrel which lasted for more than an hour during which several neighbors were awakened.

After eating supper, Schwartz, who was employed as a night watchman by the Wilshire Patrol, went into the bedroom adjoining to don his uniform and was sitting on the edge of the bed when the fatal shot was fired. The fatal shot was fired from a 32-caliber Savage automatic. Upon the arrival of Detectives and the watchman, the scene was discovered that the body was in the living-room with her 10-year-old daughter by a previous shooting, and knew nothing about the manner in which the gun was discharged. Subsequently, she said she was standing on the threshold of the bedroom when Schwartz fired the weapon and fired blank into his heart.

GUN NOT NEAR HIM.

The gun and the watchman's flashlight were discovered several feet from the body, a circumstance that so far has not been explained.

Schwartz came to this city from New Jersey about a year ago and after he met Katie Berges, a daughter of Stephen Berges, of No. 1009 North Hollywood drive.

At that time the young woman was a small girl and she and her child's father lived in San Francisco. It is asserted that he paid the girl $5000 in lieu of all claims against him.

Schwartz and the Berges woman were married last Christmas Day. Within a few weeks the neighbors alleged that the pair began to quarrel over money matters.

The home on North Hollywood drive bought with the money given to her and it was rumored in the neighborhood that Schwartz intended on selling the property and using the cash for other purposes.

Neighbors are said to have gone from the house until on May 24 the newly-wedded husband obtained employment and started to work at the factory. He stated on many occasions that employment was unbecoming and he intended to quit.

This led to another outbreak, which afterwards was followed by shooting.

GAVE CORPSE CHILD.

R. Wheeler, manager of the Wilshire Patrol, was summoned by the neighbors and upon entering the house he saw Mrs. Schwartz with her little daughter in the arms of a dead man, but for what reason he did not know.

The widow was taken to the depository in a condition bordering on collapse. Although cross-examined for several hours, she refused to give any statement, but she decided to hold her pending action of the coroner.

The body of the dead watchman was taken to Button's undertaking where an inquest probably will be held today.

In the meantime the officers will conduct a series of experiments with the aim of determining whether or not the discharge of an automatic cartridge would cause powder burns. Up to now the police have been in the position of holding the woman for

HELD FOR OLD MURDER.

James Accused of Mistreating Girl Harbored on Charge of Shooting Countryman.

James Adrizzone was arrested yesterday, charged with the murder of George Madison in Los Angeles, June 1, 1913. Adrizzone and Madison are brothers who quarreled before the shooting. Madison was found with a bullet in his back. Detectives from the district attorney's office say he was running away when shot.

Adrizzone strongly protests his innocence and declares he will prove his innocence. He was arrested last Wednesday with mistreating a 14-year-old girl. Bonds were fixed on this day following. He was arraigned yesterday in Justice Reeve's court and held without bail.

Knocked from Pole by Electric Shock, He Dies from Injuries Sustained in Fall.

Robert Johns, a lineman employed by the Home Telephone Company, yesterday received a shock from a live wire while working on a forty-foot pole in front of a house at No. 1214 Lake avenue, and fell to the ground.

He was immediately taken to the County Hospital, but died before medical attention could be given him. He was 24 years old, lived at 1214 Lake avenue, and fell to the ground.

LOOKING FOR ROHRS.

The affairs of John Rohrs, former owner of the Seaboard bar and grill on Hollywood boulevard, that has been in the local United States court at intervals for some time, took a new complexion yesterday, when city Marshal Watson located Rohrs in the United States Commission.

A warrant was issued by the city of Fresno, and placed in the hands of Deputy Marshal Shannon to locate Rohrs. It is claimed that Rohrs had been turned over to his receiver in the city, Big Wormer.

The circumstances connected with the killing of Charles Schwartz, 31 years old, who was found dead at his home, No. 629 North Main street, with a bullet through his head, led later to the arrest of his wife, Katie Schwartz, on suspicion of murder. She was held in the police station and her innocence was maintained by her attorney, who asserted that her husband had committed suicide during a family quarrel.

The conclusion of this statement, however, pointed out that no powder was discovered on the body of the dead man, and that the bullet wound would have killed him if he had not been shot first.

The shooting occurred shortly after 10 o'clock, at the end of a quarrel which had been going on for more than an hour, during which several neighbors were called in to separate the couple.

The woman, Katie Schwartz, who was a night watchman by profession, went into the living room where she was sitting on the edge of a bed, and saw her husband standing on the threshold of the front door. She saw the weapon and fired a shot into his head.

She then fled into the back room and hid under the bed.

The police, who arrived at the scene at 11 o'clock, discovered several cartridges in the living room, but no powder was found on the body of the dead man. A circumstance which has not been explained.

When the police arrived at the scene, they found the body of the dead man lying on the floor of the living room. The body was found by a neighbor who had been called in to separate the couple.

IDEAL FACILITIES FOR WOMEN

AMONG the 50,000 depositors served by this Institution are thousands of women and girls—housewives, business women, professional women, school girls, etc. Our splendid facilities have made the German American an exceedingly popular Bank with women.

The woman managing a household bears more responsibility than she realizes. It is she who can economize or waste; it is she who can swell the family's bank balance or diminish it.

The woman on a salary MUST acquire the habit of Thrift if she is to safeguard herself against obstacles which Character demands shall be overcome. Women must save as well as men! A Savings Account may be opened at this Bank with as little as one dollar.

GAS RATES PUT UP IN THE AIR.

ONE COUNCILMAN STOPS ACTION
WHEN MAJORITY AGREES.

The City Council went into executive session late yesterday afternoon to give final consideration to the gas rates. After more than an hour's conference the meeting broke up in confusion, several of the Councilmen being decidedly of ruffled temper.

"The gas rates are all up in the air," declared one as he left the room. Councilman Bryant is said to be the one member who held out against the others, after they had made concessions and a majority had agreed upon a rate of 40 cents per 1000 cubic feet for natural gas and 68 cents per 1000 cubic feet for artificial gas.

It is probable that another conference will be held today.

The rates fixed by the Board of Public Utilities, and on which protests were made by all the gas companies, on the grounds that they were too low, were 52 cents per 1000 cubic feet for natural gas and 68 cents per 1000 cubic feet for artificial gas.

The Council as a committee of the whole yesterday afternoon completed the hearing on gas rates. The feature of the hearing was the decision of the City Attorney that the Council has the authority at this time to fix a sliding scale for natural gas to be sold for industrial purposes.

L. P. Lowe, president of the Economic Gas Company, appeared on behalf of his own company and the Southern California Gas Company. Lowe set forth the claimed value, in round figures, of the physical gas properties of the three utilities serving Los Angeles and vicinity: $17,500,000, of which the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation's valuation is placed at $14,000,000; that of the Southern California Gas Company at $2,750,000, and the Economic Gas Company at $1,500,000. The total selling rate of gas, according to Lowe, is 55.6 cents per 1000 cubic feet.

This is based, said Lowe, on the gas used for the highest purpose, but if used for the lowest purpose, the rate would be 40 cents. The average price would have to be about 54 cents.

TRUCKLOAD OF NEWSBOYS RUN RIOT AT THE BEACH.

YESTERDAY the first truckload of little newsboys were given a day's outing at Venice as the guests of The Times.

There were twenty-two boys from the Castelar-street school, all of whom are "paper merchants," and twenty-one of the older girls of this school, and such a happy day as the youngsters had!

An early start was made from the school, because these busy little chaps have to begin work early each afternoon. By 11 o'clock yesterday morning the boys and girls and two of the teachers from the school were enjoying the bright sunshine on the clean, white beach at Venice.

After an hour's play on the beach, which included wading and swimming by some, the children had accumulated healthy appetites for the lunch which each brought along for the day's outing. Afterward they enjoyed a visit to the Aquarium, where they were just in time to watch the big sea lions partake of their noonday meal.

These big, blundering sea animals have become very tame, and at meal time will beg for their food just as a dog does. The female sea lions have become very tame, and at meal time will beg for their food just as a dog does. KNIGHTS TO DANCE IN BRAVE ARRAY.

FIRST OF AFFAIRS PRECEDING
GRAND COMMANDEERY TO ATTRACT HUNDREDS.

The first of a series of public entertainments to be given in preparation for the triennial convocation of the Grand Commandery, Knights Templar, to be held in this city in May, 1916, was announced yesterday for next Thursday night at the Shrine Auditorium. The entertainment will be a full-dress affair, and will be concluded with a dance.

The two local commanderies, Los Angeles No. 9 and Golden West No. 43, who are in charge of the preparations for the big 1916 convocation, will conduct the affair. Knights Templars and their ladies will be present from all parts of Southern California. The Knights will be in full uniform without side arms.

Deputy Grand Master Perry W. Weidner, Grand Junior Warden Benjamin F. Hedeo of San Bernardino and Past Grand Commander W. A. Hammel are among the prominent Masons who will attend. All Masons and their ladies have been invited, and it is believed that the attendance will exceed 1000.

The 1916 convocation will undoubtedly be one of the most important events of its kind ever held in the country. Members of the local commanderies desire to make it the biggest convocation ever held, and are making extensive preparations to this end. Besides the regular triennial convocation of the Knights Templar of America, the 1916 gathering will mark the centennial anniversary of the organization in the United States.

Present indications are that the attendance from all parts of the country will be fully 100,000, and that it is nearly two years before the convocation will be held, reservations have been made with Los Angeles hotels by guests of "The Times."

THE SHAME OF LOS ANGELES.
 Los Angeles can never be an attractive city to the stranger as long as the intrusive billboards with their glaring advertisements line the streets and intercept the vision in all directions. They are a disgrace. They have neither artistic value nor commercial advantages that begin to offset the depreciation they cause in property. No man wants to live in a house that is surrounded on all sides by huge, ugly fences plastered with lurid announcements regarding the quality of Blister's Beans or Buster's Beer.

There are few effective restrictions or limitations to the billboard nuisance in Los Angeles. Few other cities have been so negligent. Here the city has virtually ignored the blight, and the billboard companies lease vacant lots and hoist their fences skyward with no ordinance to adequately restrain their activity, and no sign of aggressive interest from the City Council.

TOO INDIRECT.
 They are planning at Philadelphia to eliminate the food jobber. What a long way to go around a simple problem! Why not eliminate the food consumer?

THE MOCCA THAT IS AVOIDED.
 Men who don't work are not heading toward Kansas. The vociferous gentlemen who have been clamoring for Los Angeles to give them food, because they claim it is impossible to get a chance to exercise their muscles, may now show their loyalty to the tenets of idleness by remaining as far as possible from the wheat fields of the Jayhawk State where 60,000 men are needed to collect the harvest.

ADVERTISING THE DRUNKARDS.
 An ordinance has been passed at Lodi, San Joaquin county, requiring saloon-keepers to post in a conspicuous place a list of the village drunkards. The henchmen of John Barleycorn are not likely to be shamed into moderation by a variation of billboard advertising when they are not averse to proclaiming their allegiance to booze by parading with staggering legs through the village streets.

CHAUTAUQUA SEASON APPROACHES.
 The personal press agents of Mr. Bryan are signally delinquent in not sneaking their stuff into the wires of late. Heavens! Here the Chautauqua season is approaching with rapid strides and we haven't even been informed whether Mr. Bryan will perambulate about the country with the jugglers—as he did last year—or whether he will be less exclusive and go on a money-making tour by himself.

THE NATION'S ILLNESS.
 When Senator Townsend declared the United States, as a nation, to be suffering from "indigestion" he came much nearer to the diagnostic definition of our ills than might have been expected from one who is serving in the Sixty-third Congress. But then, Senator Townsend is not a Democrat and so has not been initiated into the serene contentment of political new thought which refuses to recognize "error" and the distress of the nation's industry.

PLENTY TO SEE.
 The man who designed the Aswan dam has been in the Imperial Valley studying the problem of the Colorado. He says that silt is it. Just the same, silt is a mighty good thing in its place. It is silt that has made the soil of the Colorado delta 100 feet in depth. Whatever else he saw we trust the great expert was impressed with the fact that another million and a half acres could be irrigated by the Colorado, and that this much and more than this much good land is within easy reach.

"HELP THE SOUTH."
 Congressman Slason of Mississippi blurted out the truth as he said it when he said: "If you are going to bestow a subsidy it ought to be in favor of the ship which is bound to a foreign port, for the sake of the extension of the foreign trade. This extension of foreign trade might help the South. This coastwise shipping cannot help us." [Applause on the Democratic side.]

There spoke the true spirit of the Confederate majesty. Anything to "help the South." As for the North and West, let them "go to."

THERE'S A REASON.
 These shores are golden and do you know why? Well, for one reason, there are three towns in Imperial Valley that issue $40,000 a day each for two months in the summer to patrons who are spending a long vacation at the beaches around Los Angeles. This means that a single valley spends $1,500,000 every summer to make the sands of the Pacific golden. Fifty banks in Arizona do the same thing. It would seem that the much complained of silt from the Colorado River is first turned to gold dust by the farmers and then sprinkled on along the west coast.

PERSPICACITY AND THE EXPLORER.
 When one who is commonly known as T. R. came out of the jungles, mendaciously claiming to have discovered a river that has been on the maps for over 200 years, we were furnished a concrete instance of his perspicacity, which, in all moderation, we may say exists principally in the negative sense. As an explorer of jungles or of political realms Roosevelt depends more upon his imagination than upon the evidence at hand. When he founded the Progressive party he claimed to have discovered principles of justice for the first time—"principles" that had been tried and proved their fallibility throughout bygone centuries.

THE FICTIONIST AND FACTS.
 One of the most conspicuous writers of fiction in the country is Peter Clark Macfarlane. But he lacks originality, lacks it so much that he even represents himself as dealing with facts. His panegyrics of the commonplace appear in the magazines from time to time, and when he is not describing the mythical solidarity of the Progressive party he is elaborating on the sanctified characteristics of some more or less professional reformer. Nor does he pull the veil of modesty over the personal pronoun, but rather pades that symbol of egotism until it looms like a Corinthian column out of every article; which would not be so bad if there were even a reasonable assurance that he had any real, unbiased information.

The situation is steadily growing worse. The number of billboards increases almost daily. The hills are cluttered with them; the streets, especially along those through which cars run, are literally lined with them. It is impossible to travel in any direction without having the eyesight affronted by these commercial monstrosities. Indeed, the tourist visiting our fair city would have good reason to fancy that property in Los Angeles is not quite so valuable as has been represented if it can be turned over for the rental of billboard advertisers. The visitor cannot go to any part of the city without being compelled to face this deplorable nuisance. The billboards force themselves upon the eyesight; they rear on every side and scream out their sordid announcements.

If the officials of their own volition will not take notice of this shame and do something to remedy it then the people should manifest their displeasure and compel action. The city belongs to the people, and not to the billboard advertising companies. While citizens are telling their distant friends of the climate, of the business activity, of the ideal residential conditions of Los Angeles and inducing people to come, the billboard companies are laboring night and day, unintentionally we admit, but very effectively nevertheless, to make Los Angeles a hideous and unattractive city to the casual visitor. And it is the "casual visitor" who finds a lot that suits him and writes back home for the family to pack the furniture and come on.

Something must be done eventually to check the billboard nuisance and NOW is the time to begin.

A COWARDLY EVASION.
 President Wilson demanded the repeal of the tariff exemption bill on the ground that not to repeal it would be a dishonorable repudiation of treaty obligations with England. The House, under the caucus whip and spur, agreed to the repeal for the reason assigned by Wilson. The Senate, warned by the storm of indignation that swept over the country, proposes to repeal it on the ground that it is an indirect subsidy to coastwise shipping, but that its repeal does not preclude a subsequent Congress from re-enacting it, and must not be considered as an abandonment in any sense of our right to "violate our national honor," as Wilson states it, by such re-enactment.

The repeal of the law, with a declaration that such repeal is based on economic grounds alone and not as a concession to the demands of England, is of course better than if the reservation to re-enact it is not made; but it is cowardly business nevertheless.

ANGLO-SAXONS AND AZTECS.
 Nearly 400 years separate us from the Mexico that Cortez discovered. Yet we deal today with a country and a people where time has brought fewer changes than in any other part of the world. In the Mexico of A.D. 1515 there were villages and cities and imposing temples of stone. There were factories where cotton cloth was made, and tanneries where skins were prepared. There were armies and laws and a symbolical form of writing, and astronomy was understood so that there were accurate measurements of time with the solar year for a guide. Mines of gold, silver, lead and copper were worked, although iron was unknown. Intensive agriculture and irrigation have not advanced there and they are where they were four centuries ago. Mexico had in the year 1515 market places in their cities every fifth day. She had public schools, courts of justice, a class of nobles and a king. There was then the same disregard for human life that exists today. The code of laws was drastic, and capital punishment was inflicted for minor offenses. Abbott says that adultery, larceny, removing landmarks, altering measures, defaulting a ward of property, intemperance and even idleness with spendthrift habits were punished pitilessly with death. Prisoners taken in war were invariably slain upon their religious altars in sacrifice to their gods. They had slavery, but it was not hereditary and not based upon race. No one could be born a slave.

Their religion was a polytheism. They believed in one supreme God, the Great Spirit, with more inferior deities that were possessed by ancient Greece or Rome. They had a rite of infant baptism, and as the babes were sprinkled with water God was implored to wash them from original sin and to create them anew. Their ideas of a future state were not unlike those of the Catholic church. Abbott says that the good, and especially those of whatever character, who fell upon the field of battle, soared to the sun and floated in aerial grace and beauty among the clouds in peace and joy, never to be disturbed. The worthless, indifferent sort of people, neither good nor bad, found a congenial home in the monotony of a listless and almost lifeless immortality, devoid of joy or grief. The wicked were imprisoned in everlasting darkness, where they could do no farther harm. Their priests received confession and possessed the power of absolution and attended exclusively to the business of youthful instruction. The clergy was numerous, and one single temple in the City of Mexico supported 5000 priests.

Mexican civilization 400 years ago was like the Chinese and, like the Chinese, the civilization of Europe made little impression upon it. Anglo-Saxons overran America north of the Gulf and, in course of time, practically exterminated the aboriginal inhabitants and gave us our nation, which is now among the foremost in the world. But the Spaniards never changed the character of the Mexicans and they amalgamated with them to a limited extent. It is estimated that more than two-thirds of the seventeen millions of Mexicans are of unmixed Aztec blood.

If Their Requests Were All Granted

Mexico has never attempted to become a sea power or to develop a mercantile marine. She has the smallest number of ships of war or ships of commerce of any civilized power in the world and the smallest number of seamen. There are but ten ships in her navy and 1163 men, while the United States has 265 ships and 57,173 men. Her mercantile fleet consists of fifty-four vessels with a tonnage of 23,317, while the United States has 3411 vessels with a tonnage of 7,714,183.

In dealing with this sixteenth-century Aztec country, which has made but a trifling advance in progress, in science, in art or in politics since Cortez conquered it but failed to colonize it or subject it to European civilization, President Wilson is making a mistake that will surely wreck his administration and disrupt his party.

The political system and the land system of the United States are no more suited to Mexico than the Aztec system of killing, and sometimes eating, prisoners of war would be suitable for introduction in our army.

The best outcome that can be hoped for from existing conditions is that we may honorably withdraw our forces from Vera Cruz, that a concert of powers may be called to grapple with the situation, that a provisional government may be in some way agreed upon satisfactory to all factions, to be followed by one chosen by the Mexicans themselves, that our just claims for injuries to American property and life may be paid, and that we let Mexico alone to frame her own land laws and choose her own rulers.

TWO KINDS OF TRUSTS.

When a number of manufacturers combine to decrease the cost to themselves of making, and increase the cost to the consumer of purchasing, food or fuel or articles of general use, that is a capitalistic trust.

When a number of workers combine to increase their wages and decrease their hours of labor, and to prohibit the shiftless and industrious laborer from accumulating more work in a day than the unskillful and lazy laborer, and to obtain greater opportunities of securing employment for themselves by excluding non-members of their guild from the workshop and in other ways to dictate the manner in which employers shall conduct their business—that is a labor trust.

In so far as either trust confines its operations within the law it is legally unassailable. It is not the right of a capitalistic trust to enter into a combination in restraint of trade. It is not the right of a labor trust to interfere with a worker and prevent him from accepting employment from whomsoever he will at such wages as he may choose to accept.

By refusing to sell its products to merchants who buy goods that are not trust-made the capitalistic trust drives out of business those who refuse to be subservient to it. By illegally procuring rebates it enables its agents to undersell all rivals, and by bribery of public officials it exempts its officers and agents from punishment.

By ordering a strike to enforce its demands and by insulting and beating and sometimes murdering the non-union men who accept the employment which the strikers have abandoned, a labor trust sometimes accomplishes its purpose.

Those who condemn the action of boycotts, picketing, dynamiting, law-defying strikers, offer no criticism of honest workers. Labor is a great, a useful and an indispensable force. In the furnaces and the factories and the forges; in the orchards and the fields; in the shops and on the foam-crested seas; under the aurora borealis and under tropic suns it is the dew of toil alone that nurtures a nation from poverty to affluence.

Why should intelligent labor be led by the nose by brawlers? Why should labor be misguidedly and unreasonably and unreasonably? When a laborer engages in a strike he engages in the absolute destruction of the only commodity he has for sale—his labor. The products of labor may be preserved and stored in a warehouse to await a paying market; but labor itself cannot be kept in cold storage or preserved with salt or sugar or alcohol. The work that a man might have done and will not do on Monday is of no value whatever on Tuesday morning. It is lost as utterly as the dynamic force that tumbled over the brink of Niagara a hundred years ago.

Science has conquered earth and water and air. With the electric force that it draws from the waterfall and the environment it lights cities and propels railway trains and smelts iron and annihilates distance and sends messages over shores and under seas and through the air and propels submarines and aeroplanes. It fertilizes fields with nitrogen drawn from the air. It changes the thorny cactus into a nutritious forage and fruit plant. It brings insect life from the antipodes to destroy noxious worms in our orchards.

But neither science nor any law ordered by Woodrow Wilson at the command of Gompers can make twice two five instead of four, nor compel an employer of labor to hire a drunken, brawling, incompetent loafer because he is a member of a labor trust, when a competent, sober, industrious, non-union worker can be obtained.

PERPETUAL HARVESTING.

Wheat is harvested somewhere every month in the year. In January they cut the grain in Australia, New Zealand, Chile and the Argentine. In February and March in Upper Egypt and India. In April in Lower Egypt, Syria, Cyprus, Persia, Mexico, Cuba and Asia Minor. In May in Texas, Algeria, Central Asia, China, Japan and Morocco. In June the bumper crops are cut in Southern Europe. In the States south of the Ohio River and in California and Oregon. In July the reapers are busy in New England. In the Middle States, Middle Western and Northwestern States and in Upper Canada, the Balkan states, Austria, Germany, Southern Russia and the south of England. In August the wheat is harvested in Canada, Belgium, Holland, Great Britain, Denmark, Poland and Central Russia. In September and October the crop is ready in Scotland, Sweden, Norway and the north of Russia. In November the harvest is ripe in Peru and South Africa, and in December in Burmah and New South Wales.

The wheat crop of the world in 1911 was 3,332,532,000 bushels. The United States led with 621,238,000 bushels. Russia in Europe was next with 447,014,000 bushels. British India was third with 371,444,000 bushels, and France fourth with 315,444,000 bushels. The smallest crop was in Portugal, where only 11,850,000 bushels were grown. The prices of wheat in Chicago in 1911 ranged from 83½ cents to $1.01 per bushel. The lowest price of wheat in Chicago was in January, 1896, when it sold for 48½ cents, and the highest price was in August, 1897, when it sold for $2.85 per bushel.

The tendency toward intensive agriculture and the cutting up of large tracts of land into small farms does not seem to diminish the yield of grain. The Department of Agriculture reports that the yield in the United States this year of wheat will be 40,000,000 bushels greater than in 1911.

Change always brings sorrow and disappointment to the old of a generation. Every great invention has had to fight its way through established conservatism. But the man who won't install modern machinery is bound to get left behind in the race. That is exactly what has happened to the church today. The old religions are cemented deep in conservatism, deep in their old customs and ideas. Wooden ships have given way to iron, iron ships have been supplanted by steel, steel is being supplanted by aluminum—but the church is still sailing along in wooden ships, making slow progress, scorning new machinery, despising the modern turbine, regretting the passion for speed and efficiency and comfortable accommodation—and reproachfully, bitterly regretting that it is no longer the pride and mascot of the fleet.

MODERNISM AND THE CHURCH.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

The classic May meetings have just concluded their deliberations in London, and the dominant note in Episcopal, Presbyterian, Methodist and Roman Catholic discussions has been the disconcerting growth of "modernism" in religion.

It is the old, old conflict between conservatism and progress, old times and new, tradition and necessity. The disestablishment of the Church of England in Wales has shaken that erstwhile impregnable fortress to its very foundations and there are many who see in it the beginning of the end of state-supported religions. Rome herself has suffered like deprivation at the hands of France and Portugal, and Spain becomes daily more restless, more insubordinate.

In the meantime the less conventional religions, those which have repudiated ceremony and gorgeous trappings, have gained in strength and power. But not sufficiently to warrant the assumption that the world is now more religious, for all creeds alike deplore the secularity of the times and the appalling growth of indifference in the nations.

And where there is not indifference there is doubt. "Modernism," which is but another name for intellectual inquiry, is the rift within the lute which is destroying the harmony of latter-day religion. Rome deals promptly with her modernists, her questioners, those who essay to bring her laws and traditions into what they believe to be conformity with modern necessity. Like a Spartan mother she brooks no parity; no argument. Episcopalians bear with them longer and so we find many startling and radical speeches made by high prelates of the church in the recent May meetings and the ever-recurring question, "Do we believe?"

A study of the two hundred papers read at the conventions leaves a sense of hopelessness. So many brilliant indictments, so many eloquent diagnoses, so much pious pessimism and so few remedies, such a paucity of constructive effort. The Rev. J. R. Campbell, one of England's great Nonconformist ministers, who is credited with being a strong influence in the Lloyd Georgian policies of the present Liberal government, admitted that the church as an organization, or confederation of organizations, was not making headway. Yet he passionately insisted that the ministry is as good today as it ever was; that its culture, devotion and spiritual-mindedness was unabated. And that there are many conscientious heart-searchings to see wherein they fall short.

He believed, he said, that some measure of their failure might be attributed to the reluctance of the church to identify itself with the legitimate aspirations of the proletariat. That, of course, means politics, letarianism, and a dozen speakers hastened to voice their disapproval of the church besmirching its soul in politics.

Theoretically, of course, the church and politics are incongruous partners. Politics of the earth earthly—what have they to do with our spiritual life? Yet if our soul can be damned through our material sins, it is but logical to suppose that it could be at least assisted to salvation by our material virtues. Politics are rotten—and those who touch pitch will be defiled. It is the same argument that is used by the idealists against woman's suffrage. Still Christ himself felt that he could be more effective among the publicans and sinners, and if the church is really as spiritual-minded, as it should be, it should surely be immune from contamination.

But it is the church's want of self-confidence, want of faith, that is destroying its influence. The church may be as spiritual-minded, but where it was formerly spiritual, it is now spiritual doubt. Ministerialism in every civilized nation breaks out into "modernism"—the old faiths are tottering and the new ones are still unborn. And in the meantime the world is growing more prosperous, more physically comfortable, more fatally broad-minded, with wide and diverse interests. Individual independence economically, makes for individual independence spiritually—and a little education is a dangerous thing.

The Bible itself, the divine book, which should settle all doubts, solve all riddles, clear away all mists, is a subject of open controversy the world over. The Bible Society reports phenomenal sales of their Bibles, but it is without question? We most of us believe some of it—with reservations—but those who accept it with passionate, whole-souled faith, how many? Modernism advocates that the old established religions should have a grand house-cleaning, overhaul their old faiths, mend and repair and restore those that have withstood the wear and tear of the ages, discard those that are worthless, adjust those that are out of date, and refurbish the moth-eaten, dilapidated apartments in accordance with modern ideas.

Change always brings sorrow and disappointment to the old of a generation. Every great invention has had to fight its way through established conservatism. But the man who won't install modern machinery is bound to get left behind in the race. That is exactly what has happened to the church today. The old religions are cemented deep in conservatism, deep in their old customs and ideas. Wooden ships have given way to iron, iron ships have been supplanted by steel, steel is being supplanted by aluminum—but the church is still sailing along in wooden ships, making slow progress, scorning new machinery, despising the modern turbine, regretting the passion for speed and efficiency and comfortable accommodation—and reproachfully, bitterly regretting that it is no longer the pride and mascot of the fleet.

IN THE SANCTUARY.

I went to church the other day, a thing we all should do; I heard the pastor preach and pray, and felt as good as new. Fine music echoed through the kirk, whenever the gifted choir and organist got down to work; they all showed vim and fire. And when a deacon passed the plate, a closing of a tune, I saw full many a pious skater dig up a pittance. Old rusty pennies were the prize the deacon drew that morn, and I could see his ancient eyes flash forth an angry scorn. The preacher looks down from his perch on Jim crow sports. I mean; they take their pennies to the church; where dollars should be seen. All honor to the widow's mite, the poor man's hard-earned cent; they're pleasing to the Master's sight when in his cause they're spent; but it must give him fourteen times, when lightwads reach down in their jeans and dig up pewter dimes. That's why the good old deacon groans, it's why his spirit faints; he takes in just a pair of bones from seven hundred saints.

Will Coulon or Williams Be Bantam Champion Tonight?

Can He Hold It?

Van Court SIZES 'EM UP.
Coulon Hits Harder Than Kid Williams.
Dane Is Better in Training Than in Ring.
Everything Depends Upon Champ's Condition.

BY DE WITT VAN COURT.

As nothing further can be done to better the condition of either Johnny Coulon or Kid Williams for tonight's contest, it is up to them to make good their claims.

Williams has been chasing Coulon for over a year's time for a return match, and both he and his manager, Sammy Harris, should be happy this morning.

Harris is so confident that the Kid will beat the little champion that he has agreed to hand over $1000 to Coulon as soon as he enters the ring. It will also be interesting to watch the expression on the little manager when he parts with that roll.

The training of Williams has been everything that could be desired to round him into good condition. In fact, he was ready to fight several days ago, but has so far held his fine condition, and there is little possibility of his going stale before he enters the ring.

Coulon's training, while it has been satisfactory to his manager, Jack Weeks, his trainer, George Siddons, and himself, has not been so to many of the fans.

Many doubt that he will be as good as ever, claiming that there is a question about his coming back.

Coulon claims that he never has had any trouble with his stomach, but with the muscles on his chest. When he arrived on the Coast he was weighing 117 pounds, which is heavier than he ever weighed in his life. To see him stripped one would never believe he is a fighter.

His skin and muscles look in perfect condition. There is not the slightest trace of old age or fading of any kind.

Coulon's record is far better than that of Williams'. He is a decidedly clever boxer, he is hard to knock out on his feet and with his hands, and if it comes to head work, he shines like a star over the Baltimore bantamweight.

When Coulon met Frankie Conley he was about ready for the hospital; still he carried the pace for the full twenty rounds to the top Italian and easily won the decision.

Williams met Charlie Le Doux, and after hitting him fifteen to stop the Frenchman, and Le Doux did not know the first rudiments of boxing.

It also seems to me that Williams shows better in his training than in real action. He has not as yet shown the aggressiveness in a contest that he has with his training partners.

When it comes to condition physically, he looks to have decidedly the better of it; still this remains to be seen, and there can be no surety of this until he starts tonight.

Coulon may not be as good as he was, and it may be that he is decidedly better, and again this cannot be proven unless Williams punishes him severely during the contest.

Coulon is a much better judge of time and distance, and his more accurately than Williams, admitting that the Kid has improved some since his last appearance here.

Williams's match with Eddie Campi should not be given too much consideration, as Campi weighed 135 pounds when he started training and was undoubtedly weakened somewhat by the weight. Again, while Campi is a fast and clever fellow, he only carries a butterfly punch, and Williams had little to fear when he got hit. With Coulon it will be a different story.

The fact that the betting is so strongly in favor of Williams is due to the doubt over Coulon's condition. Personally, I believe Coulon's chances depend on his ability to set his usual pace and keep it to the limit, if it should get that far. He surely has everything else over Williams.

FACTS ABOUT THE FIGHT TONIGHT.

Preliminaries start at 8 o'clock. Main-event fighters weigh in the ring at 9:15.

Weight, 116 in the ring.

Purse: Coulon has $5000 guarantee with privilege of 40 per cent. of the house. Williams gets $2500, of which he has to pay $1000 by private agreement.

The preliminaries:

Texas Kid vs. Paddy Mills, 4 rounds; bantams.

Steve Dalton vs. Johnny Conley, 6 rounds; lightweight.

Kid Carter vs. Charles Shanda, 6 rounds; middleweight.

L.A.A.C. TO SEND TRACK TEAM EAST

KELLY AND DREW WILL GO TO BALTIMORE.

Club's Contingent Will Include Don Dawson, Mickey McClure, Beebe, the Anaheim High School Wonder, Ben Ward, Harry Kirkpatrick, Fred Thomson and Borgstrom.

The L.A.A.C. is going to send a track team to the A.A.U. championship meet in Baltimore late this summer, and after looking over the array of athletes that are likely to go, the club seems to have a fine chance of creating havoc with the New York monopoly on first place.

Fred Kelly, the world's greatest hurdler, and Howard Drew, the fastest man that ever broke a tape, are two of the stars that will compete for the local club, and fifteen points is thus assured. Drew won the sprints last year, while Kelly trotted in a winner in the high hurdles.

Don Dawson, the former Stanford star in the broad jump, sure to go, and Don is working out daily to get in shape for the meet. He is leaping well over twenty-two feet at present. Mickey McClure, another Stanford old-timer, hopes to fling a little dust in the faces of his competitors over the two-lap race. Beebe, the Anaheim High School wonder, will also run the half and possibly the mile. He is good for 4:26 in the mile, and well under two minutes in the half.

Fred Thomson, national all-round champion, is expected to contest in the weights. Ben Ward and Harry Kirkpatrick will hope over the hurdles, while Ben claims a fighting chance to do something in the high jump.

Charlie Borgstrom should have little trouble in walking away with the pole vault with his 12ft. 9in. effort. This array of stars, with several other men that are expected to try out, will give the L.A.A.C. a strong, well-balanced team, that will take a big bunch of points. This will be the strongest team ever sent east by a western club. The men will have to come up to a certain standard before the club will send them, regardless of classy past performances.

"CUP LIFTER" SAYS LIPTON.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.) SOUTHAMPTON (Eng.) June 8.—"I never felt more confident of winning the cup," said Sir Thomas Lipton tonight, when asked his opinion regarding his new challenger for the America's cup.

MARY BROWNE TO DEFEND TITLE.

MRS. EDWARD RAYMOND IS HER MOST DANGEROUS RIVAL FOR CHAMPIONSHIP.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.) PHILADELPHIA, June 8.—With the thermometer hovering around 94 deg., women from all sections of the country started play today in the annual tournament for the women's lawn tennis championship of the United States at the Philadelphia Cricket Club.

Mrs. Edward Raymond, the metropolitan champion who last week won the singles, doubles and mixed doubles titles in the Pennsylvania and eastern States tournament, is looked upon as a strong contender for the national championship held by Miss Mary Browne of California, who is here to defend her title. Mrs. Raymond easily defeated both her opponents today. In the preliminary round she eliminated Miss Dorothy Diston, Philadelphia, 6-0, 6-2, and in the first round the metropolitan titleholder defeated Miss Alberta Webber of New York, 6-0, 6-0.

Other survivors of the first round, who also are considered among the dangerous contenders for the national title include Miss Marie Wagner, New York, the indoor champion; Miss Carrie B. Neely, Chicago; Miss Lillian Fendleton, Cincinnati; Miss Ann W. Sheafe, Boston; Miss Eleanor Carey and Miss Susanne White of Baltimore.

CHANGE RULES FOR OLYMPIAD.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.) LYONS (France) June 8.—It is understood that important alterations in the programme of the Olympic games to be held at Berlin in 1916 are to be proposed by Germany at the meeting of the International Olympic Committee in Paris.

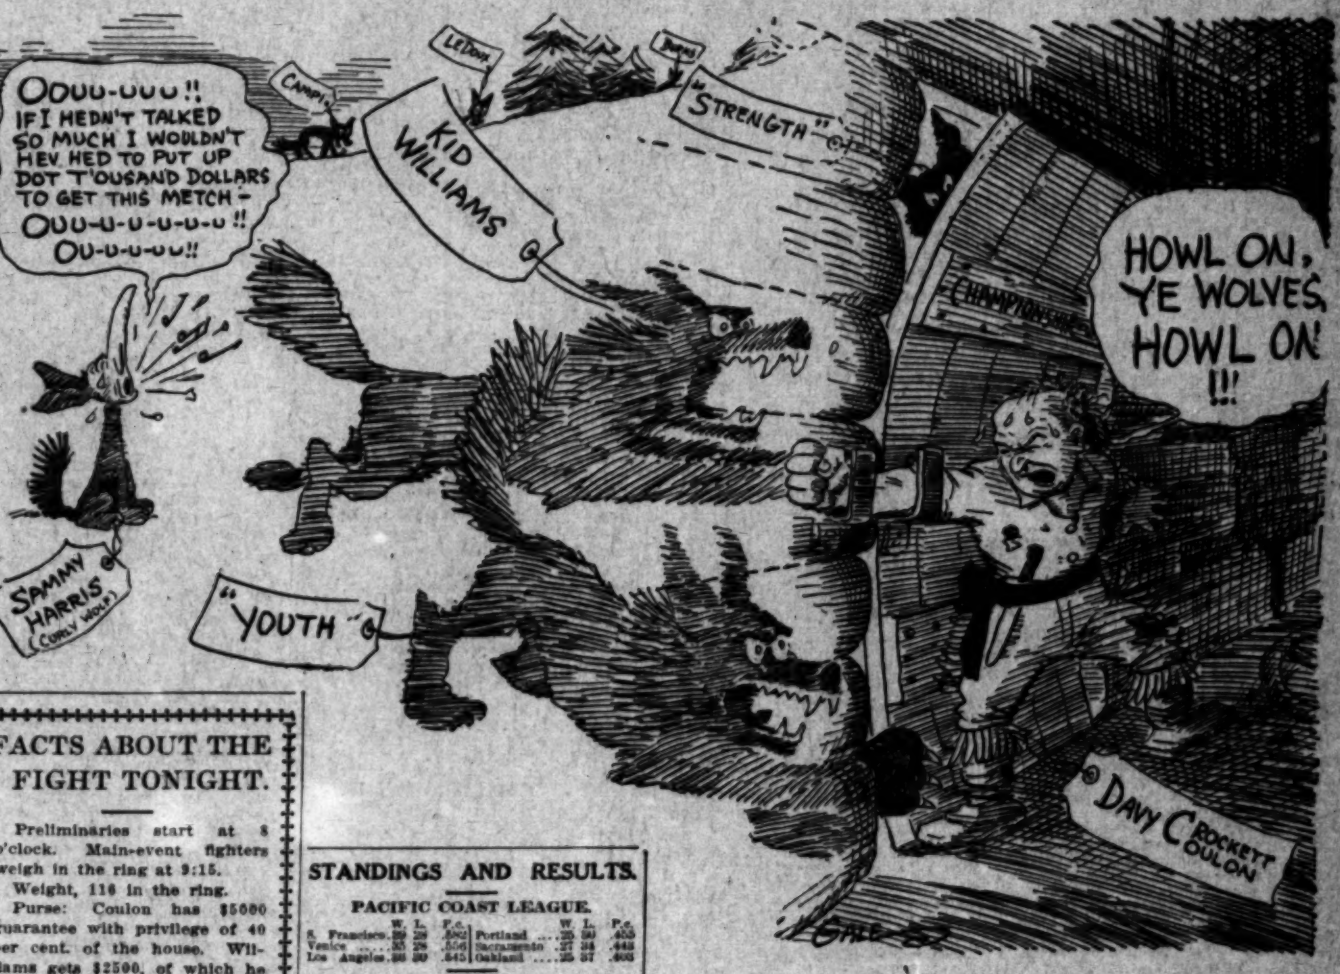

F. Burker, a German delegate now taking part in the congress of the International Amateur Athletic Federation here, received a suggestion from the Berlin committee that the steeples chase, the tug-of-war and the walking events be eliminated. The proposal was to be brought before the Lyons congress, but it was said today that it was improbable the subject would be taken up here.

The International Amateur Athletic Federation standard Olympic Programme Committee has decided not to meet at Lyons for the consideration of any alterations of the Olympic games to be held at Berlin in 1916.

One of the proposals which may be made at the Lyons congress, however, is to abolish the referees on the ground that too much power is given to a single man. It is suggested he be replaced by a jury consisting of five members from different nations.

NOYES FOR SPOKANE.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.) SPOKANE (Wash.) June 8.—Wynn C. Noyes, pitcher of the Boston National League Club, will join the Spokane Northwestern League team this week, according to word received here today. Noyes, who formerly pitched here, has been purchased by the local club.

EVERYBODY IS CHAMPION.

CLABBY MATCHED WITH M'GOORTY.

JEFF SMITH'S UNFAIR VICTORY IS NOT RECOGNIZED BY PROMOTORS.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.) SYDNEY (N. S. W.) June 8.—Jimmy Clabby, Indiana middleweight, who, by popular decision of press and ring fans, was robbed of the victory by the referee in his fight against Jeff Smith of Philadelphia, Saturday night, was matched today to meet Eddie McGorty of Oshkosh, Wis., here July 4 for the world's championship.

Smith's award of the twenty-round match Saturday was regarded as such an unfair verdict that the Philadelphia was not considered in making up the contest for the title.

San Francisco, June 8.—After weeks of negotiations, Billy Murray of Sacramento and George Chip of Pittsburgh were matched here today to box twenty rounds for the middleweight title July 4 in San Francisco. There is a possibility, however, that Mike Gibbons, whom Murray meets in New York June 15, may be substituted if he defeats Murray.

Murray has receded from his former demands and has agreed to permit Chip to weigh in at 155 pounds at 10 a.m. Previously the Sacramento fighter insisted upon Chip weighing at 150 pounds at 2:30 o'clock on the afternoon of the battle.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—Billy Orr is at his home in San Francisco and will join the Sacramento team tomorrow at Sacramento and proceed south to get in action. "I was treated royally by Connie Mack and the Athletics," said Orr, but I had no chance to break into the $100,000 infield, and I actually got stiff sitting on the bench.

PETE STANDRIDGE INVENTS WHAT HE CALLS FORK BALL.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—Pete Standridge, the Seal's only salvage from the defunct California League, says he has perfected what he calls his "fork ball." By the use of it he had the Tigers swinging last week and believes it is as good as the splitter when that first started.

Standridge puts the ball between his discovery on the climbing Angels.

C. BRADBEER COACH OF ARMY AND NAVY.

FORMER OCCIDENTAL STAR IS SIGNED FOR ATHLETIC DIRECTOR.

Chester B. Bradbeer, four years a member of the Occidental football varsity, a great track man in days gone by, has been chosen to guide the athletic destinies of the San Diego Army and Navy Academy next year.

Bradbeer is a man who knows football and track as few men know them. He played half and full-back and defensive end on the Tiger varsity during his first three years, but at guard in his senior year played the best game of his career.

On the track he was a star sprinter while still a second year prep and setting up a college record in 1910 of 61.3-5 for the quarter.

He is thoroughly familiar with the Olympic games of sport and should give the cadets an even more successful year than was the case under Al G. Waddell, last year's mentor.

(BY EDWARD WHELAN—SPECIALIST.)
NEW YORK, June 8.—Articles were signed tonight at Condit's for a boxing match between Willie Ritchie and Freddie Welsh for the lightweight championship. The bout will be before the Olympia Club of London on July 4. Ritchie will get $10,000, or 10 per cent of the receipts, as he shall choose after seeing the "house," according to Bob Vernon, who is representing the English club in making the match. He will also receive $10,000 for motion picture rights and a share of the receipts from advertising, which, according to the promoters, will bring his side up to nearly $30,000. Articles were signed by Bob Vernon, representing the English club; Harry Pollock, manager of Freddie Welsh, who has already said for the other side; and Willie Ritchie for himself. Before articles were signed Ritchie's manager deposited $25,000 with Billy Gibson to guarantee his appearance in the ring.

EASTERN GOLF.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
KANSAS CITY, June 8.—Harry G. Legg of the Minneapolis Club, Minneapolis, four times the winner of the tournament, led the field at the trans-Mississippi golf tournament, on the links of the Evanston Golf Club this morning, with a medal score of seventy-seven for the eighteen holes, the low score in the opening qualifying round. Hoge for the course is eighty-two.

H. C. Campbell of the Kansas City Country Club, next to Legg, had the low score, playing the eighteen holes in seventy-eight. Other scores: C. O. Anderson, Oread Golf Club, Lawrence, Kan., 78; Karl W. Boeck, Omaha Field Club, eighty-eight; Ben Quinan, Omaha Field Club, 81; W. J. Reynolds, Field and Country Club, Omaha, 82; Albert Cahn, Field and Country Club, Omaha, 87; W. J. Field and Country Club, Omaha, 87; F. L. Woodward, Country Club, Denver, 87; Fred Hamilton, Field and Country Club, Denver, 88; M. L. Lemist, Country Club, Denver, 88; F. H. Carr, Hyperion Field and Motor Club, Des Moines, 89; John Collins, Country Club, Denver, 90; J. B. Ellis, Country Club, Denver, 90; W. H. Ammons, Hyperion Field and Motor Club, Des Moines, 90; John Deane C. Cady, Arsenal Golf Club, Rock Island, Ill., 91.

BASEBALL JINKS FOR CHARITY.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—An attempt will be made tomorrow at the opening game of the Coast League series between San Francisco and Los Angeles to break the world's high catching record made by "Gaby" Street and Billy Sullivan, when they caught baseballs thrown from the top of the Washington monument. Sig Clarke and Louis Sepulveda, the deal catchers, will try to catch balls dropped from an airplane by Siles Christensen, 400 feet above Ewing Field. The feat will be the more difficult because of the wind which usually blows over the new ball park. Jack Neville and Harry Davis, the golf cracks, will try to put golf balls over center field fence, while Justin Fitzgerald and Pitcher "Lefty" Leffeld, the Seals' fungo hitting experts, will try to bat a baseball farther than they can drive a golf ball.

These special features will be staged in connection with the Associated Charities' benefit game tomorrow, when the poor children of the city will be given free admission on tickets sold by the charitable organization's women workers.

PLAYER HURT; POLO POSTPONED.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
HEMPSTEAD (N. Y.), June 8.—In order to keep in form until Saturday, to which date the opening of the international polo match was postponed today, owing to the injury sustained by Capt. Leslie St. George Chespe of the British challenging team, the American team had a practice game at Meadowbrook today. The cup defended by the opponents a strong pick-up team which included J. Watson, C. C. Runney, Malcolm Stevens, John Crane of Boston and A. J. Hall, the Argentine player, who is a member of the Hurlingham team. The defenders displayed perfection in team work and their ponies had plenty of speed. They won by a score of 11 to 4 goals. The scratch team could not work effectively against the new "big four."

The English team will play at Westbury tomorrow. Dr. Louis N. Lanehart, Capt. Chespe's attending physician, thinks the English player's cut eye will permit him playing in Saturday's opening international match.

FIGHTING GAME HAS CLOSE CALL.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—Pride fighting had a narrow escape from being crossed off this city's programme of future entertainments today, when the Board of Supervisors voted 5 to 3 to revoke all fight permits. Under the charter, 10 votes were necessary to adopt the resolution, and one member of the board was absent. The resolution was introduced after representatives of one of the clubs that has been staging Friday-night four-round bouts, appearing before the board to ask for the June license, got into a row among themselves. The club's June permit was rescinded.

Well, Good Luck Johnny.

EHMKE IS STILL LEADING PITCHER.

Howard (Kid) Ehmke continues to rest on top of the Coast League batters with a string of seven wins without a single licking. Ehmke has attained and retained this high position by virtue of some swell pitching mingled with large chunks of luck, horseshoes and four-leaf clovers.

Reiger and Martindale of Portland are well up in the heap with eighteen-carat averages. Jack Ryan is the second best bet on Dillon's staff with a .778 mark for the season to date. Handicappers and bettors are of the class of the Venice regulars with seven wins and four knockouts each.

HIGH SCORES BY L. A. SHOOTERS.

A handful of shooters, firing in the rain Sunday at the Glendale range of the Los Angeles Rifle and Revolver Club, proved that strength does not lie in numbers, by equalling the highest team total of the club, when conditions were perfect and a score of men were out. But a dozen shooters braved the rain and gloomy sky, and of them but eight were of the regulars. With the 500 stage shot in the rain, and water gathering on the barrels, the six high men of the eight firing scored 520 points.

The club drew a bye for Sunday, and efforts were made to arrange a special match with the Phoenix Rifle Club, the opponents of the Los Angeles men for the next match, June 11. The Phoenix reply came too late to get the members out, so those on hand shot through for practice. A telegram came on Sunday night from the Phoenix Rifle Club of Spokane, that fairly took away the breath of the local men. Shooting off a de-layed match against the Los Angeles Rifle Club, in which Los Angeles scored 218, Manito scored 262, with Young, their high man, making 148 ex 150. This would mean that the northern men averaged 144.6 per man out of the possible 150, and it is a bit too rich for the local men to swallow.

ARMY BASEBALL CAPTAIN.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WEST POINT (N. Y.), June 8.—Before disbanding for the season, the Army baseball team today elected Cadet Louis A. Merritt of Chicago captain for next year. Merritt is prominent also in track athletics at the academy, and plays end on the Army football eleven. He was a choice of nearly all the eastern football experts last fall for the all-American honors. He is a member of the class of 1915.

WICKER BEAT OUT VISNER.

On a replay last night, Wicker won from Visner in Blake's elimination pocket billiard tournament, putting down fifty balls to forty-three, with high run of twelve.

Harper and Wicker are to meet tomorrow evening, the winner of their round to take on Stafford Thursday night.

THE I. A. F. DECIDES WHAT IS AN AMATEUR.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)
LYONS (France) June 8.—The definition of an amateur was agreed upon today by a committee of the International Amateur Athletic Federation. It follows closely the definition as prepared in the report of the special committee submitted to the federation congress held at Berlin in 1913 and embraces the following rules:

(1.) An amateur is one who competes only for the love of sport.

(2.) Competing for money or any other pecuniary reward in any sport considered as athletic sports.

(3.) In the event of an amateur competing with or against a professional in any sport, not for money and other pecuniary reward, then the member of the federation to which the athlete belongs, shall be the judge of such competitors status according to its own rules and its certificates as to the competitor's status shall be accepted by all other members of the federation.

(4.) In track and field athletic sports any one who knowingly competes with or against a professional thereby ceases to be an amateur.

PITTSBURGH FEDS BEAT ST. LOUIS IN HOT GAME.

He thinks that there is likely to be a new Bantamweight champion on Wednesday morning—Coulton is slower and hits harder, but there's something uncomparable about William.

THOSE continued successes of French prize fighters over Anglo-Saxon champions do not indicate to Stephen Black, formerly middleweight amateur champion of South Africa, the superiority of the Latin physically or even in technique. Mr. Black is a close student of these contests. He has attended in the capacity of expert many bouts like that of Georges Carpentier of France with Bombardier Wells and that of Ledoux with Beynon. He attends the tremendous combats in the ring at Paris made notable by the presence of Parisian society ladies, for in Europe prize fighting has become sufficiently scientific to interest notable women.

ST. LOUIS, June 8.—A home run by Lennox in the sixth inning gave Pittsburgh a lead that St. Louis could not overcome, and the visitors won today's game, 3 to 2. The scores:

PARK-PLUG MC'CLOSKEY blew in an egg, raising the wind, but his best shot was as though he was driving fast. He was not taking Johnny Coulton to the beach today," he said. "I don't go today and we won't go to the beach in my buggy tomorrow off the fight." Coulton interrupted himself with a protest that indicated deep indignation. He asked a handful of spectators and read what Van had said to him about the fight. "You don't have to beat me to Van," said Spark-plug. "You all know what I'm on. The rest of the year you write long pieces about me. You come right out and say it. Van comes right out and says, 'What do you think about it?' and the sporting editor, suddenly, says, 'You think you will win?' 'Well, it's kind of hard to say,' answered, clearing his throat. 'I don't know. I looked at his watch and saw it was 10:10. I was just thinking, 'Well, I gotta be going.' I'm a little late. You out at the house at 10:10," said the sporting editor. "We want to know what you think about it." "Well, I dunno," muttered Spark-plug. "I dunno, but somehow, whenever I look at that little fellow, I make me think of them old Norsemen. He looks just exactly like his square head. "That little fellow, Johnny Coulton, he's a good game gun-pone game. But this here Williams is a regular hog for fighting. Whenever he fights, I see him setting there in his corner between rounds looking kind of bored and I always bet he's thinking to himself, 'I wish, he says to himself, 'this guy and me was fighting wit axes,' he says. "Anyhow, that's how he looks like he was thinking. Just ordinary fighting wit fists is too tame for him." "Well, what about it?" asked the sporting editor. "Well, what's the use of Johnny or anybody trying to look a guy like that? It can't be did," said Spark-plug, with conviction.

SLUGGING MATCH WON BY ST. LOUIS.

ST. LOUIS, June 8.—Ware's triple with Leary on first base gave St. Louis a ten-inning victory over Washington, 3 to 2, today, after three hours and thirty-five minutes of playing. Each side fought desperately and alternated in taking the lead. A sensational double play in the ninth inning when Walker threw out Milan at the hot plate and prevented him from scoring, saved the game for the locals.

KID MC'COY TO REFEREE BOUTS.

Harry Gilmore has prepared another programme for the Venice Athletic Club on Wednesday evening. Spike Harvey and George Lammerman will meet in the feature bout of the evening, while Kid McCoy will act as referee. Dewey Smith and Joe Lopez will mix at 125 pounds. They are clever boys and should put up a good bout. Two welterweights, "Dumpty" Jordan and Jack McEwen are on the list for the first time. Jimmy Brown meets Johnny Harris. Two heavy darkies will box with chalked gloves. Kid McCoy will referee.

CORONER'S JURY SAYS SUICIDE.

WIDOWER ABSOLVED OF BLAME SUGGESTED BY SUSPICIOUS MOTHER-IN-LAW. (BY HERBERT WHEAT—REUTERS DISPATCH.) SANTA BARBARA, June 8.—The coroner's jury late this afternoon rendered a verdict of suicide in the case of Mrs. Frank Pepper, who shot herself in the big ranch-house on Santa Rosa Island Saturday night. Pepper, who has been superintendent of Santa Rosa Island for fifteen years, and who is esteemed by all who know him in Santa Barbara, almost collapsed on the witness stand this afternoon. It was due to the demand of Mrs. Pepper's mother that the inquest was so rigid, she having insisted that her daughter did not kill herself.

CHICAGO SPLITS WITH BROOKLYN.

CHICAGO, June 8.—Chicago lost a chance to take first place in the Federal League today by dropping one game of a double-header with Brooklyn, while Baltimore was losing to Indianapolis.

Chicago won the first game, 4 to 3, through the batting of Harrell, Evans for Brooklyn drove a home run over the right field wall. In the second game both teams hit the ball hard, but Chicago fielded poorly and bunched hits in the tenth gave Brooklyn a victory, 10 to 7. The scores:

ANOTHER CUP CANDIDATE.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE) NEW YORK, June 8.—The American Cup candidate Defiance went out Long Island Sound today for a short sail-stretching spin. Under her two lower sails and club topsail and with a light westerly breeze blowing, the Defiance made good headway. She swung quickly when tacking and seemed to hold her headway well in the light air. George M. Pryor, managing owner of the Defiance, expressed pleasure at her behavior. Neither the Resolute nor the Vanitie left their anchorages. The three yachts will leave for the Horse Shoe inside Sandy Hook tomorrow morning to be ready for the race Wednesday.

FRENCH GIRL CHAMP.

PARIS, June 8.—Mlle. Lengien, a 15-year-old French girl, today won the women's hard court tennis world's championship under the auspices of the International Lawn Tennis Federation. She defeated Mlle. Golding, also a French woman, 6-2, 6-1, in the final round.

SECOND TRIAL.

With Judge Frank Willis of the Los Angeles Superior Court presiding, the second trial of George H. A. Phillips charged with contributing to the dependency of Neva Benedict, aged 17, will be begun tomorrow morning. Ten days ago Dist. Atty. Squier made a motion before Judge S. E. Beatie Wynn Is Coming Here
Next Week.

Mrs. Montague Goes North on Unique Mission.

BY GARDNER BRADFORD.

It has been so long since the Mason has housed a capacity audience, that last night, when I stepped in there for a moment to get a peek at the Annette Kellerman picture, and saw one, I forgot all about the Bermuda fair tale.

Evidently it is some picture though, and judging from other Kellerman pictures I have seen, it ought to be well worth while, but the capacity audience was what attracted me most.

It only goes to show the trend of amusement in this city, for when "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and "Neptune's Daughter" do better than Margaret Angulo, it is time to sit up and take notice.

Though maybe the audience came because it was a mermaid picture, full of shapely girls, in sleek, sinuous scales, for I noticed that Odette, in the flesh, drew capacity at the Orpheum, too.

That, however, is getting to be an Orpheum habit, especially since they have cut down the number of hold-overs, for one star has succeeded another with delightful regularity.

Next to appear, and she comes next week, will be Beatie Wynn, who is credited with being the best "single" girl in vaudeville. So good, in fact, that it is seldom that she gets more than a stone's throw distance from New York.

Many may remember Miss Wynn as the star of "Babe in Toyland," "Miss Nobody from Starland" and "The Sun Dodgers" and the story of how it was her refusal to wear a chain—which landed her in vaudeville—went broadcast over the country.

For be it known that Beatie was conceded to be quite the shapeliest boy on the stage.

I suspected that G. M. Anderson and Col. Braden would have a bit of news yesterday concerning the destinies of one.

the Galey companies, but found that the absence of a ball game on Monday gave them the most concern.

Native sons will have opportunity to great old friends next week when William Hodge in his new play "The Road to Happiness" comes to the Majestic, for Scott Cooper, who plays the hard-hearted old father, played for 154 consecutive weeks at the Alcazar in Fresno, twenty years ago.

And if you want to look over a real old-timer take a peek at A. L. Evans, who likes best to talk about his stock work in Louisville, where they make bourbon, and "Louisville Sluggers" and who boasts of engagements with Mary Anderson, Joe Jefferson and John Wilkes Booth.

I doubt that last, for he is the fellow who shot Lincoln. Also believe the press agent said Evans played with Thomas, not Joe Jefferson. May be we will discover that he signed the Declaration of Independence.

ROUTE TO CUT DOWN GRADES.

ROAD IN MILL-CREEK CANYON TO BEAR VALLEY TO BE A DANDY.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

SAN BERNARDINO, June 8.—After accepting the first half of the new road through Mill-Creek Canyon to Bear Valley, the portion between Mountain Home Creek and the summit, the Board of Supervisors today ordered a new survey for a route that will eliminate all the heavy grades on the famous crest drive and take the road across the top of the big Bear Valley dam.

The decision is the direct result of a two-days' trip of the Supervisors over the crest road, where work is now being done on a scenic cut-off across the south face of Strawberry Peak. The new work is designed to make the road even more of a scenic drive than at first planned.

The pitches and grades between Fish Camp and Bear Valley will be entirely removed. The complete cost of the loop drive over the mountains will be more than $1,000,000 and the reduction of the Deep Creek hill and the grades at the snow slides will cost a small fortune.

The two big national association football cup competitions of this country was recently decided. The American Football Association cup and gold medals were won by the Bethlehem (Pa.) team of the Allied American Football Association of Philadelphia, which beat Tacony F. C. by 1 goal to 0. The United States of America Football Association series was won by the Brooklyn F. C., who beat the Brooklyn Celtic eleven by two goals to one.

NEW DANCE PALACE WILL OPEN TOMORROW NIGHT.

THE Jardin de Danse, which John Blackwood declares will be the six-cylinder brand of Terpsichore in Los Angeles, is scheduled to throw open its doors tomorrow night, and Spring and Eighth streets, erstwhile dark and gloomy, will take on the effulgence of Upper Broadway.

For Jardin de Danse, when translated, means the newest and most up-to-date dance hall in Los Angeles, with a rag floor, Ed Foote leading orchestra, a refreshment corner, with a wilderness of delightful little tables, and a bevy of special features, such as only John Blackwood would dare devise.

In fact, it would be difficult to name anything that has been overlooked which would tend to make the new venture a big success, and as the public is as dance crazy as it was a year ago when the tango and hesitation first made their bow, there is every reason to believe that the Jardin de Danse, which fills a long-felt want, will open with a rush.

It is easy to reach, too, which is no small point in its favor. Eighth and Spring streets, for the benefit of those not entirely familiar with the locality, is but one block from the junction of Main, Spring and Broadway, car lines either passing the new dance hall or within one block of it.

Will set the pace.

Hazel Allen and Melikiehn, who will do the latest dances at the new Jardin de Danse, which opens tomorrow night under the management of John Blackwood.

ANGELENO WITH GUN AND ROD.

Archie Freeman Describes
Game in Egypt.

Hunting Bear and Stag in Hungary.

Flicking Trout in British Waters.

Winds from the Nile, mingling with airs from Hungary, the tale of Scotch lakes and English streams, the romance of Irish hills and Mediterranean cliffs, breathe through an epistle coming straight from the heart of one sportsman to a brother sportsman, in which Capt. Archie C. Freeman, a former Angeleno now residing in Paris, tells Joseph Singer, the champion rifleman of Los Angeles, of his shooting and fishing experiences in Africa and Europe.

Personal and business paragraphs omitted, this breezy chat from a prince of sportsmen follows:

EAST TO WEST.

PARIS, April 4, 1914.

Your letter chased me half over the world, but finally rounded me up here at home. I have been fishing and shooting in England, England and Hungary, and sometimes take a crack at the pigeon shooting game here in Paris, and at Monte Carlo and other places.

But the work with dog and gun, in the open, and the fly-flicking with my little six-ounce rod in the beautiful streams of Devonshire and the lakes of Scotland interests me much more than trap-shooting.

I have just returned from Egypt, where we have been all winter, having a splendid time and a climate as good as California.

After more interest of looking at mummies and tombs, and such things, I began to look around for some sport, as I had brought my Lefebvre and my 16-36 Winchester with me, so as not to miss any chance that might offer.

GOOD HUNTING.

I did not get a chance to use the rifle, but had some good snipe and pigeon shooting, and tried a little trap work. There are lots of snipe (jack-snipe, the same as you have in California), and a good shot can often get from 50 to 100 in a day's shoot, if—and there is a great big if—he knows where to go and is willing to ride a burro fifteen or twenty miles to get there, as there are no good roads in the country, and the donkey is the only mode of rapid (?) transit.

However, I managed to find the spot a few times, and had fine sport. One afternoon I bagged sixty and lost nearly as many because the cover was thick, and I had no dog, and the man who was supposed to do the retrieving showed more interest in the empty shells than in the dead birds. So I finally let him gather the shells and it became a matter of time before he retrieved, regardless of other birds getting up in the meantime. With a good dog I could easily have gotten 100.

They have some very good duck shooting at the Delta at the mouth of the Nile, but it was too late in the season to go, and if I had the land in regard to the ducks. So I did not get a whack at them, although I did go on a few occasions to the lake and shot a few ducks.

I did not get a whack at them, although I did go on a few occasions to the lake and shot a few ducks.

They have the same kind of ducks as we do in California, wildgeese, teal, spruce mallards, and if I had the proper game laws and would take a lesson from California sportsmen in the matter of clubs, they would have as good shooting as you fellows.

GUN SLAUGHTER.

One of the great mistakes they make is using the boat or punt gun, and the same is true all over Europe and England. They turn loose a whole bag of No. 1 shot into a flock at long range, and then boast about the number of birds they can slaughter at one shot.

One of the Pashas in Cairo, who was supposed to be a great sport, showed me his "duck gun" with a great deal of pride. It was nothing less than a Krupp cannon, exactly the same as you see mounted on the gun perches of torpedo boats. The gun was about twelve feet long, a breech-loader using a regular paper shell that would hold about a pound of powder and something less than a sack of shot. Unless he got from sixty to 100 birds at a crack he did not think he was having any sport.

DIFFICULT TRAP.

There is a pigeon-shooting club at Cairo, where I ran up against the most difficult trap shooting I ever saw. They shoot clay birds, and sometimes birds from the ordinary pigeon traps.

But their favorite sport is at live birds, which are thrown by hand from a pit about six feet deep, where the thrower stands. The pit is sloped out toward the boundary, seventy yards away, formed by a ten-foot fence. The shooters stand fifteen to twenty yards from the pit, and believe me, it takes some shooting to grab a bird before he gets over the fence.

The birds are all small, strong, wild ones, blue in color and quicker than chain lightning, and the man in the pit would make some of our crack baseball pitchers look like 30 cents. The result is that the bird starts faster than a bluecock ever thrown from an "expert" trap, and he's getting faster all the time, so forty to fifty yards is the distance one has to shoot, and it takes a good gun, good shells, and a crackerjack behind the gun, to kill three straight.

They make pools and sell tickets on the shooters, as they used to at the races in California. The events are all "miss and out," and two or three birds generally decide the event.

The "bookies" are game, and I saw one fellow win an event with two birds against a field of twenty, when the books were laying fifty to one against him. I was told that he had been shooting a long time and had never been in the money.

Of course, my little "sixteen" was of no use in that game, and though I borrowed a twelve and took a chance or two, I couldn't connect. I was told that they sometimes use quail, and sometimes teal, in this game, and it is, without doubt, the most interesting kind of live-bird shooting, as well as the most difficult.

Archie Freeman abroad.

An hour's work in an Egyptian snipe swamp by a Los Angeles sportsman—thirty-two birds.

during April and May, affording good sport.

CLEOPATRA'S QUAIL.

The quail of Egypt are little, brown fellows, about the size of a meadow lark, and very good eating. The natives trap and net them, or so of a thousand, without restriction, so it can only be a matter of time before they become thinned out, unless the authorities wake up and protect them.

HUNGARIAN GAME.

My best shooting, up to date, was in Hungary, not far from Vienna. There I visited a friend at his shooting place, and he had a splendid shooting, mostly partridges and pheasants—real, wild birds, not tame, hand-raised ones like they have in England.

We also shot hundreds of hares as big as young deer, also several bucks and stags, and a few roes. I was after wild boar, but did not get any, as we could not root the brutes out of the thick cover.

The wild geese come into the fields in Hungary, as they used to do in California years ago, and there is also good duck shooting in places. I saw some of the preserves of the Kaiser and the Emperor, which are literally swarming with game of all kinds, from snipe to stags—no mention will be made of some bears.

My friend in Hungary has some beautiful dogs, and it is a pleasure to see them work. One old white bitch, the best of the lot, reminded me of your old dog, and another liver-and-white bitch called to my mind the one I took down to San Diego and lost.

FLY FISHING.

They say there is good trout fishing in the Carpathian mountains, near Vienna, and next time I go there I'll try a whack at it. So far, most of my fishing has been done in England, Ireland and France, where I have had some jolly good sport.

One of the streams in Devonshire reminds me of the Malheur, and is my favorite place to go for trout. The trout are brown brook trout, but there are also Loch Leven trout and a few rainbows.

The Loch Leven trout, in his native waters of Loch Leven, in the Highlands of Scotland, is a fine fish and a game fighter. But the fishing there is mostly done from boats and is not what they call fly fishing, which is what you have when you have a boat and you have to pull them back into the boat and then row yourself ashore against a gale of wind, a heavy two-man boat, as happened to me once.

Just the English big game hunter uses a rifle much heavier than an American for the same game, so the English trout and salmon fishermen use a rod and tackle usually about double the weight we think necessary.

The "dry fly" is all the rage now in England, some fishermen going so far as to use none other—which means that they can only fish when the trout are rising in slow water. There is no doubt, however, that the dry fly fisherman must be a past master in the art of fly casting, and besides, in most cases, the dry fly gets the biggest fish.

SERIOUS SPORTS.

I think the average Angeleno has both his fishing and his shooting too seriously, and it amuses me greatly to see the long arguments in the "Field" about "what a fly looks like from the fish's point of view," etc., etc. Also "choke versus cylinder-bore," "single trigger versus double," and so on.

They are trying to make out just now that a cylinder-bore is better than a choke for nearly every kind of shooting. I have a new pigeon gun that Greener made for me after about two weeks' experimenting and six months' work. The gun is a beauty; twelve-bore, modified and full; straight grip, weighs about seven and one-half pounds. It shoots like a house fire, as Greener's remedy. It jams my cheek to a jelly, so that I am compelled to use pad cheek piece stuffed with cotton. What do you think is wrong? My field guns never hurt my face in the least, although they are much lighter, and I use just as heavy loads in them.

Speaking of light guns, the English flint guns are, as a rule, much lighter than ours. The average is about six pounds for a twelve and four and a half for a five pounder for a sixteen. I think, myself, that they are too light, as I am of the opinion that a man should use not less than seven-pound gun in the field, and about half a pound heavier at the trap.

DUELING PISTOLS.

They don't do any rifle shooting here, to speak of, but a great deal of pistol shooting, especially with the duelling pistol—a long, muzzle-loading affair, beautifully made and balanced, although rather light in weight for the big, round .44 ball it carries. With this weapon the French are splendid shot, and can cut the center out of a 1½-inch bull at twenty yards in great shape.

For duelling practice, however, the shot has to be fired so quickly that great accuracy is not possible, al-

Mayor Extends Greeting to the Hotel Men.

Working Sessions Pre- Frolic at Beach.

Up Mt. Lowe and Programme Today.

Two business sessions, luncheon, and dinner at the hotel men in Venice, a dance and frolic at the beach made a full day yesterday for the greeters of America, who are holding their national convention here.

Headquarters were opened at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. Mayor welcomed the visitors to the city. "Hotel men are noted for their hospitality," the Mayor said. "They are all walks of life, each with his own special interests."

The delegates to the convention are from all over the country, and many of them are well known to the hotel men of Los Angeles. They are here to discuss the problems of the hotel industry and to elect officers for the coming year.

The convention will continue for several days, with sessions held in the morning and afternoon. There will be a large display of hotel equipment and supplies, and a number of social events will be held during the convention.

The hotel men of Los Angeles are doing everything possible to make the convention a success. They have arranged for a number of special events, including a dance and frolic at the beach, and a programme of sightseeing for the delegates.

The hotel men of Los Angeles are proud to have the convention held in their city. They are sure that the delegates will have a most enjoyable and profitable time here.

SORROW WIPES OUT A FAMILY.

Son Kills Himself Because Parents Are Dead.

Mother in Grave Through Grief for Husband.

Glendale Boy's Cup Flows Over in Death.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
GLENDALE, June 8.—Grieving over the death of his mother, who died three months ago from sorrow over the death of her husband, and weeping over financial affairs, 19-year-old William T. Gillespie committed suicide Sunday night by shooting.

Lying partly in a clothes closet and partly in his room, the body was found early Monday morning, a bullet hole just over the heart, and a 25-caliber Colt's army revolver clutched in his hand.

When the father died less than a year ago, the lad, who was not through school, refused to allow his mother to earn the livelihood, though she wished to do so that he might continue in school. He secured a position as clearinghouse clerk with the Security National Bank in Los Angeles, and was taken into the home of Assistant Cashier A. M. Beamon, No. 245 Maryland avenue, at his mother's death.

CHEERED HIM UP.
Everything was done to make the lad happy, and though he exerted an effort to appear so, the family knew he was brooding and tried hard to cheer him up and to take his mind off his trouble.

A number of facts have developed since his death to make it appear that the act was premeditated. Sunday, when the Beamons left for Los Angeles, they arranged that the housekeeper remain and prepare his meals, and keep him company, but he insisted that she go, saying that it was too fine a day for her to stay in when she might as well have a day off.

Late Sunday afternoon while rendering some assistance to a Times reporter, he intimated that he might have a good story for the paper the next day. Several other little things occurred which seem to indicate that he had planned to take his life.

HER DARLING BOY.
An affectionate letter from his aunt, endeavoring to encourage him and dated May 31, arrived soon after the body was found, just a little too late. The letter was written at Yarden, Miss., where she was visiting, and was in answer to one she had received from him the day before.

It contained a $2 bill, all the change she could spare. The aunt, who signed herself "Aunt Annie," called him her "darling boy" and with affectionate and sympathetic words she tried to cheer him up.

She said she was so sorry she couldn't help him in his financial affairs as she had lost her fortune. She said she would gladly pay every cent he owed otherwise. The $2 was used yesterday to buy flour and under-taking parsons, awaiting an answer to a telegram sent to Mississippi in the hope of locating the aunt, whose last name is unknown here.

J. B. Gist, cashier of the bank, stated yesterday that Gillespie had no cause to worry over the expenses of his mother's funeral, as officials of the bank had seen to it that the money was forthcoming. "Gillespie had been with us a year and was capable and energetic," said Gist, "and the officials of this bank took much interest in him."

FIRST STEAMER THROUGH CANAL.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
SAN DIEGO, June 8.—The Norwegian steamer Kron Prinz Gustav Adolf, which will load this month for San Diego and other Pacific Coast ports, will be the first foreign ship to come here via the canal. Its coming will mark the inauguration of the service of the W. R. Grace & Co.'s ships to this port from Europe direct.

A fleet of six foreign freighters are now loading or en route here, including the French ship Desaix, from Hamburg, British ship Desaix from Hamburg, British ship Lord Dufferin, the Queen, Helena and Vestalla from London.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

PASADENA, June 8.—Adolphus Busch had much to do with securing the appropriation of $200,000 for the marble postoffice now in course of construction at Worcester avenue and East Colorado street. It became known yesterday.

At the time Pasadena was urging Congress to make this appropriation, in 1910, Representative Richard Bartholdt of Missouri, who was a warm personal friend of the late brewer, and who made the principal address at his funeral services in St. Louis, as chairman of the House Committee on Appropriations was the man Pasadena sought to interest in his behalf.

Telegrams, dug out of an old file yesterday at the office of Ernest H. Lockwood, the late millionaire's local agent, show that Busch personally telegraphed his friend, Bartholdt, urging a liberal appropriation.

DIPLOMAS PRESENTED.

The commencement exercises at Throop College of Technology were held yesterday in Pasadena Hall. The class was the fourth to be graduated from the college since it has been in its present location and many attended the exercises.

In the absence of President J. A. B. Scherer, who is in Europe, Dean George A. Damon presided. Dr. Henry S. Carhart delivered the commencement address and the travel scholarship prizes were awarded by Dr. Norman Bridge, president of the Board of Trustees, and Rev. E. L. Conger, Robert S. Ford, president of Pasadena won the senior prize and Fred Lloyd Poole of Santa Ana the freshman prize.

The graduates, besides Ferguson, are: William Pinlaw Ayers of Salem, N. J.; Everett Southworth Gardner of Pasadena; Henry Bernard Gereken of Los Angeles; Guy DeWitt Young of Gardena; Vergil Franklin Morse of Pasadena; Walter Lamb Newton of Denver and Albert William Wells of Pasadena.

HIT ON HEAD AND ROBBED.

WOMAN ASSAULTED IN AUTO PARTY WHICH VISITS TIA JUANA.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

SAN DIEGO, June 8.—What appeared to be a simple invitation to drive to Tia Juana was a plot to rob Mrs. Annie Gottlieb of her diamonds, according to the confessions of Roy Welch, a chauffeur, and Mrs. Mae Bowden.

While returning from Tia Juana last Tuesday night in a machine in company with Mrs. Bowden and her two daughters and the driver of the machine, Stanley Tumbler, the auto was suddenly stopped by two masked men and Mrs. Gottlieb dragged from the machine, hit on the head, and robbed of a diamond ring valued at $250.

Such secrecy was maintained about the ride that it is only now the officers were able to run it down. Today Welch, confronted with information given by his accomplice, Harry Muehl, a messenger boy, admitted the plot to Chief of Police Wilson, as did Mrs. Bowden, to whom Welch gave the ring.

Mrs. Gottlieb, who is still in a serious condition from the wounds received, was known by Welch to have about $4000 worth of diamonds, which she usually carried on her person. Tuesday night she did not have them with her.

Welch and Muehl drove in a second machine to Tia Juana and awaited the return of the machine with the women. Welch, Muehl and Mrs. Bowden were tried before Justice Keating today. The Bowden girls and Tumbler had no part in the plot, it is alleged.

ANCIENT EGGS FOR TEACHERS.

CHINO SCHOOL BOYS ATTACK IN WOMAN'S DEFENSE.

Recent setback of beloved instructor who is caring for sick husband—Harassed Principal Shoots Twice When Assaulted. Arrests to Follow Complaints.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

CHINO, June 8.—All Chino is split into factions because a gang of school boys bombarded Prof. E. H. Price and O. L. Lafave with eggs Sunday night. The former is supervising principal of the Chino schools, while the latter is principal of the grammar school, second in authority to Price.

Prof. Price, backed by the school trustees, slated Mrs. Eleanor Thrall, a teacher, for the fifth grade next term, instead of the eighth, where she had taught nine years. This arrangement was distasteful to the pupils of the eighth grade, all of whom are very fond of the lady and loyal to her interests.

Friday evening the grammar school commencement exercises were held in the High School's auditorium. The pupils of Mrs. Thrall's class had subscribed $27 to give to their teacher as a remembrance. Instead of some present purchased for the occasion because Mrs. Thrall has had to maintain a sick husband in the Pasadena hospital for six months or more.

Prof. Price notified the children that they could not present the present to their teacher during the exercises. They then wanted to retire to another room and make the presentation. Price still refused them that request. He told them that they could not make the presentation even on the school grounds. One little girl then spoke up and said:

"Whereupon the children, their teacher, and a number of parents of the pupils went out into the street, where the presentation speech was made and the money handed Mrs. Thrall."

The more the young folks thought the matter over the more indignant they became until about ten of the boys decided to wreak vengeance upon Lafave, who they believed to be the cause of the trouble. As soon as the exercises were over the boys went to the Lafave home and threw rocks at the house. When Lafave came out the boys changed their ammunition to eggs and pelted the doors and walls around Lafave until he beat hasty retreat into the house. The boys declare that they hit him with several eggs, more or less ancient.

Saturday evening about 9 o'clock eleven young men, some of them pupils of the High School and some of them former pupils, decided to take further revenge out on Lafave for his actions. They immediately visited the house and called to him until he came out on the porch. The boys then began to throw at him with eggs, each of which was armed with five missiles. Not less than thirty were thrown before Lafave disappeared inside the house. He reappeared with a pistol and shot twice, causing the boys to make a speedy getaway.

Later in the evening, it is alleged, the boys went to the High School and laid plans to attack Prof. Price. It is charged that Chester Riley went to Price's house and told him that there was trouble at the High School grounds. Price went to the school grounds and was made the target for a lot of eggs, thrown with considerable precision. The boys then ran away.

Four petitions are now being circulated asking the trustees to retain Mrs. Thrall as teacher of her former pupils. The petitioners are: Arthur Utter, George Kock, Vernon Holcomb, Joe and Ed Anderson, Chester Riley, Emory Gaywood, Emory Watts, Hugh Bailey and one other.

This morning Prof. Price and Lafave made complaint to Marshal Riley. Arrests are expected to follow.

ACCUSED CHEERED BY PROMISED AID.

HUSBAND STANDS BY WIFE IN TROUBLE—SAYS SHE HAS BEEN UNWELL.

(BY EMERY WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

SAN DIEGO, June 8.—Accompanied by her husband and in the custody of Capt. Joe Myers, chief of detectives, Mrs. Georgia Simmons Burke arrived here this afternoon and was taken to the City Jail. Comforted by the knowledge that her husband, James Burke, from whom she became estranged, would stand by her in her trouble, the self-confessed sender of the poisoned candy intended for Mrs. W. H. Dagg was calmer today than at any time since her arrest.

Some of the other passengers on the train guessed that the quiet little woman traveling with two men was charged with attempted murder or was even under arrest. Her chief anxiety, now that she has the support of her husband, is concerning her children, whom she did not see before leaving Los Angeles. She will be arraigned tomorrow morning before Justice of the Peace Keating.

James Burke, the husband, is here and will remain as long as he is needed. He has secured the services of Joseph Scott to defend his wife. "Today he said 'I shall stand by my wife. She has done this when she was not herself. She has not been well for some time and when she went to Los Angeles to have an operation I feel sure her weak, nervous state and the state of her mind are the cause of her actions.'"

According to the police, Burke is highly respected and well-liked by all of his co-workers and his employers on the Santa Fe, where he is a conductor.

Mrs. Dagg said today: "I read that Mrs. Burke said I threatened her life. That is not true. Murder is not in my heart."

Mrs. Dagg said she did not expect Mr. Dagg or her daughter, Amy, from Winslow, as she did not think their presence here necessary and she had not sent for them. Although his arrival was expected by the authorities, neither Dagg nor Miss Amy Dagg arrived here tonight.

NIGHT PROWLER IN THE SHADOWS.

ALHAMBRA QUAKES 'O' NIGHTS BECAUSE OF PEEPER.

Constable and Deputies Follow Warm Trail, but Fugitive Remains Unidentified—Women Engage in Pistol Practice to Defend Their Firesides.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

ALHAMBRA, June 8.—Someone has wished a persistent night prowler on Alhambra. For several months an unwelcome nocturnal rambler, perhaps a peeper, perhaps a mill thief, perhaps just plain crank, has been disturbing many homes, and has always been clever and nimble enough, to evade the close watch made for him by Constable B. F. Parker and his lynx-eyed patrolmen.

Constable Parker recently suggested that all persons leaving their homes for the evening leave a light burning, as sneak thieves were active, but the night prowler seems not to be a thief, unless identified with the stealing of milk from the porches, which the dairymen say is becoming complained of all over the city.

Attention was first called to the "peeper" one evening in late February, when a member of the household of M. B. Bronson on Sixth street was startled to see the face of a man peering into her room from underneath the shade, which had inadvertently been left a few inches above the sill.

In the investigation which followed footprints in the ground underneath the window clearly indicated the intruder's presence. A few nights later the young son of the house warned someone at one of the rear windows who explained that he had made a mistake in the house. Since then an unwelcome nocturnal intruder has disturbed the rest of many residents.

Last Sunday night at the M. K. Geesend residence the inmates were disturbed by the prowler. On a day night very evident traces of the invader were discovered at the residence studio of Mrs. Ames Hill Runkle, but the man had completely disappeared before the hasty arrival of Constable Parker. Last Wednesday morning the persistent whining of a pet dog led to the discovery of a man on the front porch of the residence of C. E. Roberts at Third street, the friendly shadows of the many trees on the property aided the prowler again to make his escape.

Monday night the formal statement reports say that the questions concerning him most vital are: Who is he, what does he want and who wheeled him onto the city? Constable Parker is working on a clew which will likely lead to the capture of the prowler, and the questions will have a chance of being answered, unless some irate citizen gets the man first, or some of the women who are learning to handle a revolver learn to shoot straight and happen to surprise their visitor on some of his midnight jaunts.

MAYOR'S STEAM ROLLER ON DETECTIVE'S TRAIL.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

LONG BEACH, June 8.—T. G. Cervantes, police detective, faced a fire of testimony in the hearing instituted by the Mayor and other members of the Police Commission, which began at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon. After the day's session, however, Cervantes pointed out that all of the witnesses against him were either police officers whom the Mayor had favored or former prisoners in the city's jails.

Through a storm of protest has gone up because of the unfair procedure of the Mayor and commission, the members, as usual acted as accusers, prosecutors and judges, and will act as jury and pronounce sentence. Cervantes was given no notice of the charges against him, and was in no position to offer rebuttal through his attorney, George M. Spicer.

Police Sergeant Frank Whitte, Patrolman C. H. Andrews, Serg. C. C. Cole and Patrolman E. O. Stewart testified. In effect their testimony was an allegation that Cervantes had been brutal to a prisoner named Powell, called an L.W.V., who was arrested on the charge of drunkenness in June last year. Serg. Clyde Allen, called by the prosecution, proved a good witness for the defense. Allen stated that he was with Cervantes on the night in question and the officer did not strike the prisoner.

CHILD DROWNS IN CEMENT PIPE.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
MONROVIA, June 8.—Marshall England, the 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. England, of Mountain avenue, Duarte, was drowned about 10:30 this morning when he fell into an open cement irrigation pipe. The covering had been left off the pipe when orange ranchers commenced irrigating a grove opposite the England home this morning.

The child slipped away from home unnoticed by his parents, who missed him half an hour later and commenced a frantic search that ended with their finding his body at the bottom of the pipe, into which he had apparently fallen while looking in. A physician could not resuscitate him.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Three separate committees of citizens took turns before the Finance Committee of the City Council yesterday, asking for appropriations of generous size for various projects. One was for the Independence Day celebration, another was for the permanent factors in the beautification of the city for 1915, and the third was for a subway under the Santa Fe tracks to connect the Southwest Museum and Bunker Hill.

The Mayor issued a statement yesterday in which he endorsed the plan of the Municipal Efficiency Commission to work out a scheme for simplifying the city government and centralizing authority.

The Public Welfare Committee of the City Council held a public hearing yesterday on the subject of requiring moving concerns to report to the police department the names of patrons moved, and their former and new addresses.

By calling in court officers and county employees, Judge Jackson, a bachelor, yesterday ascertained the cost of supporting a child 1 year old until she reaches the age of 18. The total cost, approximating $3000, was added upon a dental by a jury under the act covering the responsibility of a parent.

A supposedly-wealthy rancher was committed to the County Jail for contempt yesterday for failure to pay back alimony. A divorce suit, in which both husband and wife allege misconduct, is pending.

MAKE DEMANDS ON CITY'S FUNDS.

ONSET KEEPS BUSY "WATCH-DOG OF THE TREASURY."

President Whiffen in One Forenoon Has to Meet Arguments of Three Sets of Citizens Asking for Liberal Appropriations—All Are Taken Under Adversity.

President Whiffen of the City Council, and chairman of the Finance and Budget committees of the Council, had his appetite for luncheon somewhat impaired yesterday, but he was still on the job during the afternoon, as a determined "watch dog of the city treasury." In the one forenoon he had to meet the arguments of three determined and enthusiastic sets of citizens, each one waiting for his turn to present its appeals for generous appropriations from the municipal funds.

All of these demands are "taken under advisement," and the citizens' committees had to depart with the assurance that "We'll consider it, but won't promise you what we'll do." First came the Fourth of July Committee with a request for simply $2500 out of the celebration fund of the city, which the committee pleads that it is highly important under existing national conditions. The committee proposes to have at least 500 military men on the streets of Los Angeles on that day.

Then came the delegation from the 1915 committee, composed of M. H. Flint, William M. Humphreys, Capt. H. Z. Osborne, Meyer Lisner, Frank Wiggins, W. M. Bowen and R. W. Prigman. As told elsewhere in The Times, they were asking for a contribution of $75,000 from the city to aid in the decoration of the city for the 1915 centennial. The figures for this project were finally scaled down to $60,000.

And while these two committees were presenting their demands, the third committee awaited. It proved to be a delegation of club women and citizens of Highland Park and the East Side, asking the city to contribute $4500 for the purpose of placing a subway under the Santa Fe tracks so as to give direct connection between Bunker Hill and the Southwest Museum. This was urged on the grounds that it would be a safeguard to human life.

This committee was composed of Mrs. Shelley Tolhurst, Mrs. W. A. Paxton and Mrs. Seward Simons of the Friday Morning Club; Mrs. Herman Darling and Miss Ella True of the Woman's City Club; Mrs. Frances Noel of the Highland Park Parent-Teachers' Association; C. F. Lammie of the Southwest Museum, and others.

TAB ON MOVERS.
SHALL CITY UNDERTAKE IT?
The Public Welfare Committee of the City Council gave a hearing yesterday to the proponents and opponents of an ordinance that would require all moving concerns to report to the police department the names of patrons moved, and their former and present residence or location of each party moved by them. After listening to arguments on both sides of the question, Chairman Wheeler remarked that it appeared to be simply a question as to whether or not the city wants to adopt a policy of becoming a part of a general collection agency, and the subject was taken under advisement.

Representatives of the Bekins Van Company, the Shattuck & Nimmo Company, and the Los Angeles Warehouse Company appeared to oppose the measure, on the grounds that the burden would fall upon the large concerns, while the small expressmen would evade the ordinance provisions. The Retail Grocers' Association and other mercantile organizations had representatives present to urge the measure, on the ground that it would cause a great saving to business houses and thus cause a lessening in the price of commodities to the consumer, as bad debts caused by buyers who purchase goods and then move away without leaving addresses would be largely eliminated.

CENTER AUTHORITY.
SO BATHS THE MAYOR.
The undertaking of the Municipal Efficiency Commission to point out the way whereby through ordinance action the city government may be simplified and authority more centralized, as set forth fully in yesterday's Times, was the subject of much comment at the City Hall yesterday.

Mayor Rose issued the following statement on the subject:
The chart of the city government and the comments by the Efficiency

Commission emphasize a fact that has become clearer to me every day since I assumed office. The fact is that the Mayor of this city is the administrative head of the government in name only. His hands are so tied by charter and legal provisions that he cannot be held accountable for what is done or not done by the various departments that are presumed to be responsible to the Mayor.

The chart of the Efficiency Commission shows seventy-two members of the twenty administrative boards and commissions. Of this number only twenty-two members owe their appointments to me. All the others were appointed either by preceding Mayors or by the Council. Such a plan has the effect of separating and scattering responsibility so widely that interested citizens do not know in what direction to look for redress where to lay the blame for shortcomings.

In my judgment, efficient management of the city can be assured only by centering the authority and the responsibility for management on one officer and looking to him to get results through department heads whom he appoints. This is the present situation in the police and fire departments, and I believe that such a condition of better harmony and stronger teamwork than now exists in those departments.

I am gratified that the situation has been brought out as clearly as this in this organization chart. The chart ought to be reorganized so that it is distributed in order that citizens and taxpayers, as well as city officials, may study it and intelligently see the need for a business reorganization of the city government.

In addition, I wish to say that I have no desire to change the personnel of any of the existing commissions. Many commissioners and several officials have rendered their services, which for the good of the city, I have refused to accept. The material at the city's command is first class, but the present system is chaotic.

City Hall Briefs.

The Los Angeles Railway Corporation yesterday asked the City Council to grant it a six-months' extension of time within which to complete its new street line on Vermont avenue. The line is completed, with the exception of the crossing of the four-track line of the Pacific Electric on Long Beach avenue, and there is still unsettled the question as to what method shall be employed on this crossing.

Residents of South Los Angeles filed a new petition yesterday, asking the City Council to establish a free municipal market at either Forty-second and Wall streets or Vernon avenue and Wall street.

F. W. Blanchard, member of the Municipal Art Commission, applied to the City Council yesterday for a leave of absence for three and a half months. He is going to Europe on a short time for a tour of Russia and Norway.

Chief Engineer Mulholland's plan for financing the construction of the auxiliary trunk lines for the distribution of Los Angeles aqueduct water in the San Fernando Valley will be formally before the Public Service Commission this afternoon, and undoubtedly it will be approved. The plan calls for the construction of a trunk line where it will also be indorsed. The principal plan in this plan is to have the San Fernando irrigation district pay its proportion towards the cost of the Franklin Canyon trunk line and then use this money to start work on the Chatsworth main line and complete it with revenues derived from the sale of water.

The City Council at yesterday's session awarded to the American La France Fire Engine Company the contract to furnish to the city two fire engines, each to cost $2500 each. The engines are to be delivered in Los Angeles within 120 days.

FIXES COST OF RAISING GIRL.

BACHELOR JUDGE CALLS UPON MARRIED EXPERTS.

Testimony of Benedicts in County Offices Fixes Sum that Court Decides Dentist Who Is Adjudged Father of Little Child Must Pay. Fellow-Jurist Refuses Advice.

A judge in the course of his work on the bench has many questions coming before him to decide. Usually he can find the answers in law books, but yesterday Judge Jackson had to decide the cost of clothing and educating a child from the age of 1 year until she is 18 years old; 15 a month between 1 and 15 years; 120 a month between 15 and 18 years, at which time she will be able to support herself or be a happy bride with a husband to lean upon.

In hunting estimates on the burning question, Judge Jackson sent for Judge Monroe and Judge Morrison. The latter, who had decided a similar case, could not be found. The former announced from his bench that he was disqualified as a witness.

DOESN'T PAY ALIMONY.
IS COMMITTED TO JAIL.

Just 1105 stood between J. W. Ritzman, whom his wife alleges is wealthy, and liberty yesterday afternoon. He did not produce the money due his wife for back alimony, and was committed to the County Jail until he pays up or is released on habeas corpus proceedings. Attorney Bull, his counsel, announced his intention of suing for a writ.

Had Ritzman escaped the contempt charge he would have been arrested on a failure-to-provide charge, a warrant being ready to serve upon him at the psychological moment.

Ritzman is fighting his wife's divorce suit and in a cross-complaint he charges her with misconduct with Lou Meredith, a former ranch hand. Mrs. Ritzman has named Maple Robinson as the woman who stepped between them. The battle has been waged for nearly two years, first at El Centro, where Ritzman had a ranch, and later here on a transfer of the case. Yesterday Ritzman was put on the grill to ascertain his resources. He had claimed a government claim and a desert claim, four mules and a horse and other personal property. He also admitted having sold wagons for 1910, but was asked what became of the money, he could not recall the transactions, although barely a month old.

The court stated in committing him for contempt that Ritzman had shown no disposition to tell what he had done with the $2000 he was paid for the mules and horse.

WIFE IS DENIED DIVORCE.
When she was asked if she did not love her brother-in-law, Sam Phillips, more than she did her husband, Mrs. Phillips declared she was an American citizen and had the right to like whom she pleased, commented Judge Monroe yesterday in denying the woman's divorce from Westley Lee Phillips.

"I would," interrupted Mrs. Phillips. "I don't care to hear from you any more, madam," sharply ordered the court. "You have disturbed the proceedings of this court enough."

Mrs. Phillips named another woman, but the court did not find any evidence to support it. On the other hand, he found that Sam paid too much attention to his sister-in-law.

"He learned early that his brother was jealous of him," said the court, and he tried to deceive his brother by saying he came to the house to take him to church.

"It is the most outrageous thing I ever heard of. He did not have the decency to stay away."

The court said that the three children, while the custody of the children now remain with the wife, the court said that if Sam Phillips will not let her really in the house, she alone, "because if there is any more of that intimacy there will be some other order of the court, and don't make any mistake about it."

CHILDREN GET ESTATE.
IN FIVE EQUAL SHARES.

John C. Coombs, who died April 7 last, drew his will May 23, 1913, dividing his property equally among his five children and providing a trust until the youngest child, Sam, should reach the age of 21.

This trust will have one year to run. The children are Mrs. Florence M. Coombs of this city, Helen J. Coombs of this city, Helen J. Coombs of this city, Helen J. Coombs of this city, Helen J. Coombs of this city.

Coombs owned real property in New York, Michigan and Los Angeles. The value in this county is $10,000, being principally in stocks and cash. Carrie C. Farnham, a sister of Coombs, and Homer Manvel were named as executors, but the former refused to act and the latter is disqualified, as he resides in Michigan.

Coombs provided in his will that in the event of the death of the executors he named, W. J. Armstrong and Farnham should be appointed. No bonds are required.

WANTS PROPERTY BACK. After deeding a lot worth $2200 to Mrs. Jenkinson, who lived in the county, she was asked for during her lifetime. Bethina Arnet alleges in a complaint filed yesterday against Mrs. Hall and her husband, that the deed was recorded without her permission. She asks that the deed be canceled, setting up a claim for the lot. The case is set for trial in the Superior Court.

DAMAGES FOR TOOTH. A. W. McAllister, a singer, asked a jury in Judge Wilbur's court to decide the value of a tooth he alleged C. L. Powell knocked out January 5, last. The case was set for trial in the Superior Court.

LEAVES NO WILL. Woodward Washington Duke, son of the tobacco king, who was killed in Utah on the 1st, in an automobile accident, left an estate in this county valued at $2600, and an interest in the estate of his father, who died in 1910. As no will was found, his mother, now Mrs. Mary Agnes May, filed a petition for letters of administration yesterday, alleging that his only heirs are herself, formerly known as Minnie Woodward Duke and Brodie L. Duke.

NOW WAGE-EARNER. In the belief that Manuel Dial will be more useful to his wife and children breaking the fast of the county, he was sentenced to serve time for burglary in the penitentiary, Judge Monroe yesterday sentenced Dial to the county jail for 30 days for failure to provide. The burglary charge went off calendar in Judge Craig's court.

JUDGMENT IS VALID. On the ground that the corporation was de facto, the consolidated Construction Company yesterday moved to set aside a judgment for $2000 damages obtained against it by the Superior Court. The corporation, which was organized in 1910, had been injured. The corporation, it seems, was later rehabilitated and entered a defense. Judge Wilbur held the judgment was valid and denied the motion.

OUTSIDE JUDGES. Judge Cabaniss of San Francisco called the calendar for Judge Finlayson yesterday, the latter having been assigned to try a criminal case. Judge Denmore of Riverside did the honors for Judge York, who is trying a case in the latter city.

GETS DAMAGES. A jury in Judge McCormick's court last evening found for the defendant in the $15,000 damage suit of Anton Fares against C. J. Pound for injuries sustained when Fares' motorcycle and Pound's automobile collided on the Whittier road.

DEATH SENTENCE. Lois A. Larsen, who murdered her wife in the Casa Verdugo hills early a year ago, and whose appeal for a new trial was denied by the Supreme Court, will arrive in Los Angeles tomorrow from San Quentin. Larsen will be sentenced to death by Judge Craig, who originally sentenced her to death. According to reports, the doomed man has resigned himself to his fate and will make no further efforts to escape the noose.

PROCEEDINGS IN BRIEF.
CASE DROPPED. The $50,000 slander suit filed by Philip A. Kilfoil against P. L. Blaine and his wife, Bertha Palmer, was dropped by Judge Morrison's court yesterday on the ground that there being no response by Kilfoil's attorneys. The alleged slander is said to have arisen from the remark of Mrs. Blaine, mother of Mrs. Palmer, that Kilfoil had been intimate with the girl. The suit was filed May 5, about a month before Kilfoil was convicted by a jury of having mistreated Lillian.

DISTRIBUTION ORDERED. The widow and three children of John R. Vogel were awarded in the Probate Court yesterday a distribution of $711,076.17 of the $1,123,466.38 estate of the deceased. This consisted largely of personal property, the pro rata being one-third of $237,024.42 to Mrs. Louise Leath Vogel, the widow, one-ninth each, or $158,016.41, to the children, Amanda O. Vogel, Rudolph F. Vogel and Herman O. Vogel. Legacies to other relatives were approximately $6000. Lee A. McConnell and the Security Trust and Savings Bank are the executors.

CASE SUBMITTED. Legal questions involved in the fight of Charles Hicks to establish his claim on the $150,000 estate of George E. Lloyd, on the ground that he is a son of Lloyd and producing as proof an acknowledgment of the father, were recorded yesterday by Judge Morrison. Hicks, in 1911, was submitted on briefs to the Superior Court. Hicks, who is now in the county jail, is alleged to be the illegitimate son of Lloyd.

WANTS PROPERTY BACK. After deeding a lot worth $2200 to Mrs. Jenkinson, who lived in the county, she was asked for during her lifetime. Children's Day —Good news for mothers! "Clearing out" price, percale dresses; on middy blouses, on linen frocks, gingham dresses for children. Many are quite new, need tubbing, or perhaps a size or a color or two are—these reasons prices are lowered.

Colored Wash Dresses, $1.00

—Dresses that you will recognize as being good value again to double the price we ask! Dainty styles, and wanted colors, of good-quality gingham, percale and—just the dresses for the daughter's summer vacation 6 to 14 years.

Children's 59c Wash Frocks, Now

—It will be a good idea to get several of these frocks—for they will certainly be needed whether at the mountains or at home—and the materials alone are more than 39c! Many pleasing styles of gingham and percale, in sizes 6 to 14 years.

Children's Middy Blouses, 49c

—Wonderfully fetching are these pretty blouses that earlier in the season would have sold at 69c; slightly rumpled, 'tis true, but in such perfect condition that makes them ready for wear. Made of white gingham or percale, in attractive plain styles with long or short sleeves, round or sailor collars; sizes 6 to 14 years.

Children's Wash Dresses, 89c

—The prettiest little dresses imaginable, you'll hardly know which one to choose. They bore much higher price marks a month or so ago. You may have choice of gingham, linen and percale in a wide variety of attractive models; sizes 6 to 14 years.

Children's White Dresses $1.65

—Attractive styles of white lawn. All have summery low necks and short sleeves, and are prettily embroidered and lace trimmed. If some were not slightly rumpled you'd be paying a higher price instead of only $1.65 for them. Sizes 6 to 14 years.

79c House Dresses, 49c

—Another coup d'etat by the unequalled Hamburger buying organization makes possible this welcome price saving on desirable house dresses of best percale, in neat stripes and checks. All sizes are to be found in the assortment, but not all sizes in each style. We illustrate two of them—come see them all, share in this notable underprice distribution.

7c Figured Percales, 5c 123c Figured Crepes, 10c

—No necessity to go farther than Hamburger's if you need a figured blue percale of neat pattern and are desirous of making a decided saving on the purchase of ideal for house dresses, boys' waists, etc.; and 34 inches wide. (Hamburger's Basement Store)

Helping Kidneys By Clearing Blood

A Function Greatly Assisted By a Well-Known Remedy.

Most readers will be interested to more clearly understand why analysis of urine is so important. In the use of A. K. S. to purify the blood, its action is a stimulant to the kidneys, and it is the kidneys that make up the constructive tissues of the body. The blood from all over the body must pass through the kidneys. They act as filters and excretors. And according to the analysis of the blood, the kidneys are found to be diseased. This disease is a great relief to the kidneys. The body wastes are even more distributed to the excretors; their elimination is stimulated by the tonic action afforded the liver, lungs, skin and kidneys. Thus, in cases of rheumatism, cystitis, chronic sore throat, business of voice, bronchitis, asthma, and the myriad of other ailments, the kidneys are the most important organs of the body. A. K. S. is shown in the urine, and as the blood continues to sweep through the kidneys, the dominating nature of the disease is entirely eliminated. This is a great relief to the kidneys.
